OBJECTIVE

I thrive in high-pressure and fast-paced situations, striving for positive results by applying my operations management and project management abilities. I bring value through “real-life” experience and proven mission accomplishments. Further, I have contributed significantly to collaborative efforts and achievements through my 22+ years in the training environment with both the United States Army and in the civilian sector. I have knowledge and education in Six Sigma and project management with budgets of upwards of $50 million. I can visualize success and identify unconventional, yet highly effective strategies for achieving it.

My ability to manage multiple projects and versatility in public speaking and teaming building have provided me with essential skills to fulfil positions within your organization. I have skillfully balanced organizational objectives and productive relationships, strategizing and recommending ways in which to achieve and maintain max performance with multiple agencies, while leading 550-3000 subordinates during different management roles, peacetime operations, and in the combat environment.
