The Congress finds and declares that-

- (1) the spirit and direction of the Nation are founded upon and reflected in its historic heritage;
- (2) the historical and cultural foundations of the Nation should be preserved as a living part of our community life and development in order to give a sense of orientation to the American people;
- (3) historic properties significant to the Nation's heritage are being lost or substantially altered, often inadvertently, with increasing frequency;
- (4) the preservation of this irreplaceable heritage is in the public interest so that its vital legacy of cultural, educational, aesthetic, inspirational, economic, and energy benefits will be maintained and enriched for future generations of Americans;
- (5) in the face of ever-increasing extensions of urban centers, highways, and residential, commercial, and industrial developments, the present governmental and nongovernmental historic preservation programs and activities are inadequate to insure future generations a genuine opportunity to appreciate and enjoy the rich heritage of our Nation;
- (6) the increased knowledge of our historic resources, the establishment of better means of identifying and administering them, and the encouragement of their preservation will improve the planning and execution of federal and federally assisted projects and will assist economic growth and development; and
- (7) although the major burdens of historic preservation have been borne and major efforts initiated by private agencies and individuals, and both should continue to play a vital role, it is nevertheless necessary and appropriate for the Federal Government to accelerate its historic preservation programs and activities, to give maximum encouragement to agencies and individuals undertaking preservation by private means, and to assist State and local governments and the National Trust for Historic Preservation in the United States to expand and accelerate their historic preservation programs and activities.

~Excerpt from Section 1 the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966

Rep. Rob Bishop (R-UT) and Rep. Earl Blumenauer (D-OR)

Rep. Rob Bishop, Chairman of the House Committee on Natural Resources and Co-founder of the 10th Amendment Task Force, is currently serving his seventh term as a member of the United States House of Representatives. He served sixteen years in the state legislature, including time as Majority leader and the unanimously elected Speaker of the House. He also served two terms as State Chairman of the Republican Party, is Co-founder of the Western States Coalition and past Chair of the Congressional Western Caucus. Mr. Bishop spent twenty-eight years as a high school teacher in Utah, focusing on American History and Government. Married to Jeralynn Hansen Bishop, they have five children and seven grandchildren and reside in Brigham City.

Rep. Earl Blumenauer, the Democratic Co-Chair of the House Historic Preservation Caucus, was elected to the US House of Representatives in 1996. Mr. Blumenauer has created a unique role as Congress' chief spokesperson for Livable Communities: places where people are safe, healthy and economically secure. From 1996 to 2007, he served on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, where he was a strong advocate for federal policies that address transportation alternatives, provide housing choices, support sustainable economies and improve the environment. He is currently a member of the Ways and Means Committee and the subcommittees on Health, Social Security and Trade. Congressman Blumenauer's academic training includes undergraduate and law degrees from Lewis and Clark College in Portland.
