IDAHO HOME BUILDERS ASSOCIATION

Blue Cross of Idaho is proud to be the exclusive health plan partner of the Idaho Home Builders Association. We have many years of experience delivering a variety of high-value health plan options that allow trade association employers to offer quality healthcare benefits to employees and their families.

By joining a trade association, business owners can elevate their status as an employer by offering rich benefits at cost-effective rates, helping them attract and retain top talent in a competitive labor market.

Our health plan options allow Idaho Home Builders Association members to offer whole-health coverage to their employees. These plans are available at competitive rates thanks to the packaging of medical, dental, vision and COBRA benefits which help lower premiums for both employers and health plan members. Association members can trust that their employees and families can get and stay healthy through no-cost clinical solutions.

Our health plan offerings can help business owners who join the Idaho Home Builders Association recruit top-tier employees and stay competitive while investing in the health of their workforce.

Plans and options

Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) plans: These plans use Blue Cross of Idaho’s statewide network, which includes 100% of hospitals and 95% of physicians.

Health Savings Account (HSA) plans: These plans give members access to the PPO network and let them make pre-tax payroll contributions into their own HSA to use toward qualified medical expenses.

Dental: Our dental plans have been structured to optimize healthy outcomes by increasing access to care, reducing cost for services that treat disease and aligning covered services to support overall health.

Vision: Members can get low-cost WellVision Exams® with Vision Service Plan (VSP) network providers. Members get the most out of their vision benefit when they see a VSP provider for corrective services, eyewear and contact lenses.

Important information

- Employers must be a member of the Idaho Home Builders Association and in good standing to offer an Association health plan through Blue Cross of Idaho. Employers are not required to be members of the IHBA to receive a quote, but must be member prior to enrollment.
- Employers must have the majority of their income from home building (not from commercial construction) and North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code starting with 23 (construction).
- Employers can join the Idaho Home Builders Association and begin to offer health plan benefits at any point in the calendar year.
- The benefit plan year is January 1-December 31.
- If an employer joins the Association partway through the calendar year, they will have a shortened plan year until January 1 of the next plan year.
- Employers can offer up to three medical plans to employees.
- All employers, regardless of the number of employees, must offer COBRA coverage to their eligible former employees and dependents.
- Enrollment census must consist of at least five members with a minimum of three enrolled employees to qualify.
- Vision coverage is identical, so it is required with a medical plan.
- Dental coverage is non-standard enrollment. This means that the eligible employee has the option to enroll or not.
 - If the employee enrolls, then the dependents can participate.
 - If the employee does not enroll, then the dependents cannot have coverage.
 - The group still has to offer dental to their eligible employees and will contribute based on the actual enrollment.
- If the employer leaves the Idaho Home Builders Association health plan at any time, they must wait two years to rejoin the Association health plan. Employers who leave the Idaho Home Builders Association can still offer Blue Cross of Idaho health plans to their employees. Employers who leave the health plan can still maintain their membership in the Idaho Home Builders Association.

The Idaho Home Builders Association Benefit Trust Fund (the "Trust Fund"), a multiple employer welfare arrangement benefit trust fund, has contracted with Blue Cross of Idaho Health Service, Inc., to offer fully insured health insurance to employer groups that are members of the Idaho Building Contractors Association and that meet the eligibility requirements established by the Trust Fund.
