WOOFSTOCK

Sutherlin's Woofstock Festival is a fun event for dogs and people, sponsored by the Sutherlin Area Chamber of Commerce and held at Central Park in downtown Sutherlin. Enjoy a parade, races, raffle — even a pie-eating contest for dogs! The festival's mission is to promote the human/animal bond, and to provide positive and educational activities for pet owners. Proceeds benefit the Sutherlin Woofstock Community Relief Fund used for efforts such as — but not limited to — animal rescue, aid for families and pets suffering loss of home to fire, and support of animals displaced by wildland fires. Sutherlin Woofstock Festival happens annually on the third Saturday in June.

PARKS & TRAILS

SUTHERLIN DOG PARK

City of Sutherlin • sutherlindogpark.org

Scenic, Safe, Welcoming

Take your special pal for an off-leash romp and enjoy the view. This 2-1/2-acre park sits among tall pines on a gently sloping hillside. It is divided into several areas, two of which have weather shelters that provide shaded areas, picnic tables and benches. Paved walkways allow for easy access for our friends with physical challenges. Ample parking and restroom available.

RED ROCK TRAIL

Downtown Sutherlin

Enjoy this friendly trail rain or shine!

Whether you're strolling, jogging, biking or walking your dog, the Red Rock Trail provides a joy to the senses. Approximately 1.75 miles in length, the paved trail runs from South State Street (by the Fire Department) to Nicholas Court, along Sutherlin Creek through the City's right-of-way, offering scenic views and the sounds of wildlife in the Wayne Calder Wetland Conservation Area.

COOPER CREEK RESERVOIR

2.3 miles east of Sutherlin

A picturesque spot than lends itself to outdoor activities any time of year

Cooper Creek Reservoir is a great destination for hiking, biking, boating, paddle boarding or swimming — and best yet, your dog is welcome to join in the fun. The east side features a 6.4-mile all-weather trail, built and maintained by the Sutherlin Rotary Club. Currently on the west side there are a couple of shorter hikes, and a new longer trail is under construction.

FORD'S POND

2.8 miles west of Sutherlin
fordspond.org

An open-space, natural community park with safe year-round access

Ford's Pond is a place to enjoy walking, birding and wildlife viewing, fishing, and kayaking and canoeing. This 202-acre property offers parking and a portable restroom. Please adhere to guidelines by keeping dogs on a leash and picking up after them. Pet waste bags are provided at the three entrances.

MILDRED KANIPE PARK

9.8 miles northeast of Sutherlin
mildredkanipepark.org

On the National Register of Historic Places

A paved drive and parking area brings visitors next to Mildred's house, a picnic area and public restrooms. The house was originally built about 1865. A nature trail winds around native plants and along the creek bed. On the east side of the creek and south of the day-use area is a pond. There are peacocks aplenty, therefore all dogs must be leashed. As well, bring your own bowl, water and pick-up bags.

in and around Sutherlin!

TRAVEL TIPS

Don't hit the road

Having your dog accompany you to mountain vistas, scenic overlooks, along ocean beaches or through deep forests is one of the greatest joys of dog ownership.

Whether they are romping down the trail on backpacking trips, sleeping in a tent soundly at your feet, splashing in babbling creeks, or alerting you to wildlife ahead, pooches make fine hiking companions.

As you set out to roam with Rover this spring or summer, keep a few important tips in mind:

- Check on regulations. While the majority of trails are open to dogs, several Northwest and National Parks trails prohibit them.
- Maintain control of your pooch at all times and obey leash laws. Some trails allow your dog to be under voice command while others require the dog to be leashed. If your dog has strong prey drives and a tendency to wander, or doesn't always exhibit good manners when approaching other hikers or other dogs, always err on the side of caution and keep your pooch on a leash.
- Be mindful of your pet's waste. If not properly disposed of, dog waste can contaminate water id without them!

sources and spread diseases. Pick up not only your dog's waste, but also the waste disposal bag, should you leave it trailside to take back on the way down.

On backpacking trips, follow the same guidelines as for human waste and bury dog droppings in hand-dug holes at least 6 inches deep and 200 feet from waterways.

- Bring plenty of dog treats and give lots of praise. Our furry friends work just as hard as we do out there, so be sure to replenish calories with dog-specific snacks, water and lots of well-earned pats.
- Make sure your dog is wearing ID. Have a clear identification tag on his collar with your contact information in the event your dog gets lost, and ensure he is microchipped in case his collar falls off.
- Carry first-aid supplies and know how to use them. Be prepared to treat your canine companion should he get hurt on your adventure. Have a pair of dog booties handy in case of a sore or cut paw and educate yourself on dog first-aid, such as CPR, bandaging skills and reactions to poisonous plants, insect bites and stings.

Sutherlin is the perfect jumping point for your next great experience.

adventure right here in our backyard!
