Afternoon Workshops 1:30-2:30pm

Workshop 1 – From Bottlenecks to Breakthroughs: Modernizing Alcohol Licensing & Compliance Systems - Effective liquor control regulation can be limited by an agency's current software system. Learn the pros & cons of various options and lessons learned from New Hampshire Liquor Commission's experience improving operations with modern technology. – Brian Bennett, Director of Strategic Growth, System Automation and Danielle Ellston, Deputy Chief, New Hampshire Liquor Commission Division of Enforcement and Licensing

Workshop 2 – From Compliance to Control: Understanding and Applying Response to Resistance-This workshop provides law enforcement officers and regulatory personnel with a comprehensive understanding of response to resistance and use of force policies, practices, and legal considerations. Through case studies, scenario-based discussions, and policy review, participants will explore appropriate decision-making, documentation standards, and strategies to ensure lawful and proportionate responses in enforcement situations. – Cris Martinez, Staff Sergeant, Training Division, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission

Workshop 3 - Blue Hawai'i: Coordinated Enforcement within the Aloha State
Representatives from multiple alcohol law enforcement agencies operating across the State of Hawai'i explain the framework of alcohol regulation in Hawai'i and its four separate counties. Attendees will gain insight into how these agencies collaborate across geographic and administrative boundaries to uphold alcohol laws, ensure public safety, and navigate complex regulatory challenges. Through case studies, interagency coordination models, and real-world enforcement strategies, the session highlights the benefits and lessons learned from unified efforts in a decentralized jurisdictional environment. - Brandon Gonzalez, Administrative Officer County of Hawai'i – Department of Liquor Control, Glen Nishigata, Supervising Liquor Control Investigator City & County of Honolulu – Department of Liquor Control, Jarrett K. Kaho'ohanohano, Deputy Director County of Maui – Department of Liquor Control

Workshop 4 - Leadership Track – This is a 3-hour workshop from 1:30pm to 5:00pm
Take Us to the Top: The 25 Steps to Leadership and Organizational Success!
Whether you are a team member just starting out or already holding a major leadership position within the organization, there are several important keys to unlocking both yours' and the organization's potential for high performance and success!
The development of an organization's current team members and future leadership is critical to both the growth and viability of every successful organization. Take Us to the Top: The 25 Steps to Leadership and Organizational Success! book and accompanying course/training program are designed to provide readers and participants with the 25 actual, tangible steps on how to become a better and more successful team member, leader and organization. This course presents these Contingency Leadership based steps in a new, easy-to-use Leader-Follower Trust Development Model, which reveals how to best develop the respect and trust required of potential followers and fellow team members. The performance levels of all team members and the organization rest upon the critical principle of trust between team members, and their commitment to the organization's mission and vision! Readers and program participants will also be exposed to the new Situational Performance Model SPM, which provides personnel at every level, how to best select and utilize the correct leadership style, regardless of the situation faced! It is ever more apparent today than ever before that organizational performance is everyone's responsibility! Leadership development programs tell participants what to do and what not to do but never reveal how to actually engage in

Afternoon Snack Break in between workshops

Afternoon Workshops 2:45-3:45pm

Workshop 1- Modernizing Alcohol Regulatory Practices: Enforcement-Driven Results in Nebraska

Join us for a session showcasing how the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission (NLCC) transformed its enforcement capabilities through the implementation of the POSSE ABC software system. Since launching in May 2024, NLCC has seen a 137% increase in premise inspections, an 82% rise in Direct-to-Consumer reports logged and streamlined coordination with the Nebraska State Patrol (NSP) and Attorney General's Office—enabling faster case management and improved regulatory outcomes. The new system also introduced the POSSE Mobile app, giving inspectors real-time access to licensing and enforcement tools in the field. Operationally, NLCC has reduced license processing times by 75%, lowered staffing costs by 20%, and improved transparency and service to licensees. - Shannon Nyhoff, Legal/Enforcement Division Administrator, NLCC, Todd Suchsland and Nathan Jacobsen, NSP, and Joshua Collier, Business Development Director, Computronix

Workshop 2 – On the Scene: How TRACE Strengthens Alcohol Law Enforcement

The Target Responsibility for Alcohol-Connected Emergencies (TRACE) program is a partnership between the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission and state and local law enforcement agencies designed to expedite investigations of serious alcohol-related incidents at licensed establishments—such as DWI crashes involving significant injury or death, assaults tied to overserved patrons, or other critical events. Through a dedicated 24/7 TRACE hotline (operated via the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department), law enforcement can immediately notify TABC, enabling regional TABC peace officers to rapidly respond and begin investigative work while public safety concerns are still pressing. The aim is to bring TABC's enforcement expertise into urgent situations swiftly, improving case resolution and reinforcing accountability at licensed premises. -Lt. Robert Coulter, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission

Workshop 3- Alcohol Delivery Project – Delivering Compliance: Lessons from Three States' Alcohol Enforcement Practices

This workshop brings together regulatory leaders from Colorado, Louisiana, and Connecticut to share their unique approaches to alcohol delivery compliance. Participants will gain insight into each state's enforcement strategies, policy frameworks, and operational challenges, as well as practical lessons learned in addressing unlicensed deliveries, third-party platforms, and retailer accountability. Attendees will leave with a broader understanding of emerging trends, best practices, and collaborative opportunities to strengthen compliance in the evolving alcohol delivery landscape. Chris Clements, Agent in Charge, Colorado Liquor Enforcement Division, Richard Mindek, Interim Director and Jenel Lanuza, Special Agent, Connecticut Liquor Control Division, Joseph Picone, Assistant Commissioner, Director of Enforcement and William Carpenter, Enforcement Director Regions 2&3, Louisiana Office of Alcohol and Tobacco Control

National Liquor Law Enforcement Association 38th Annual Conference

Workshop 4 - Leadership Track – Dr. Gregory Warren

Afternoon Workshops 4:00-5:00pm

Workshop 1- Vermont Alcohol Compliance program – Dedicated to the Modern Innovations in the Retail and Manufacturing Industry - The Vermont Department of Liquor and Lottery's (DLL) Alcohol Compliance Program – Dedicated to the Modern Innovations in the Retail and Manufacturing Industry seeks to establish a 12-month compliance program. The program seeks to find if these changes in the retail sales market have any impact in sales to minors over traditional compliance. The planned measurable outcome will be the collection of 12 months' worth of data related to minor compliance in and around self-service checkout, comingled alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages, & new RTD/Alcohol products that are derivatives on existing non-alcoholic products. – Sgt. Jennifer Czachor, Sgt Melanie Gaiotti, Sgt. Michael Welch, and Investigator Jennifer Norton

Workshop 2 – Money on Tap: Investigating Fraud, Theft, and Financial Misconduct in Licensed Venues

This workshop explores how financial crimes such as embezzlement, tax evasion, skimming, and fraudulent reporting can occur within licensed alcohol establishments. Using real-world examples, participants will examine investigative techniques, red flags, and documentation strategies to detect and prove financial misconduct. The session will highlight how regulatory agencies and law enforcement can work together to safeguard revenue integrity, protect consumers, and hold licensees accountable. – Lt. Henry Guevara and Investigator Doug Bell, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission

Workshop 3 - Unlawful Interstate Shipments: Identification, Investigation and Action –

Limited to Alcohol Law Enforcement and Regulatory Attendees

This presentation addresses three critical issues facing alcohol law enforcement today; the unlawful interstate shipment of alcoholic beverages, the circumvention of Direct-to-Consumer (DTC) licensure laws, and most recently, the unlawful interstate sale and shipment of 200 proof Ethanol - Neutral Grain Spirits to consumers. This session will review investigative protocols and findings, as well provide an overview of the resulting enforcement data. - Chris Temple, Supervising Special Investigator, Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission

Workshop 4 - Leadership Track – Dr. Gregory Warren

General Session- Jermaine Galloway – Tall Cop

Officer Galloway, a Texan, known nationally as the Tall Cop, has worked in substance abuse prevention and education for over 20 years. After playing Division I basketball and receiving his BA in Sociology from the University of San Francisco, he worked as a law enforcement officer for 18 years. His various assignments included: alcohol compliance and enforcement, CSI, DUI task force, officer mentoring, and field training officer. In 2007, Jermaine started the company known as “Tall Cop Says Stop™”. The Tall Cop has conducted trainings in every US state and Canada and currently devotes thousands of hours each year to training professionals and communities on drug and alcohol prevention, education, and enforcement. The Tall Cop is unique in that he spends hundreds of hours with “boots on the ground” highlighting drug culture in various communities. To date, Tall Cop has trained more than 800,000 professional and community members. He has trained across the U.S and in other countries such as Canada and the Bermuda Islands. The Tall Cop has conducted more than 8,400 community scans, identifying the drug culture and climate. His program, “High in Plain Sight”, is a nationally recognized program, that provides training, education, and enforcement strategies for community substance abuse issues.

Morning Workshops 11am-12pm

Workshop 1 – "Charitable Gaming in Transition: Regulatory Insights on Electronic Evolution and Future Trends" - As technology reshapes the charitable gaming landscape, state regulators are tasked with adapting oversight to meet new challenges and opportunities. This presentation examines the current state and future direction of charitable gaming, with a special focus on the growing use of electronic versions of traditional games, such as electronic pull tabs. The discussion will explore the benefits these innovations offer in terms of revenue generation, accessibility, and operational efficiency, as well as the risks they pose related to problem gambling, regulatory complexity, and enforcement.

Attendees will gain a well-rounded understanding of:

- The regulatory considerations surrounding electronic charitable gaming
- Pros and cons of digitizing traditional games
- Strategies for ensuring compliance and integrity
- Legislative and policy trends shaping the future

This session aims to foster thoughtful dialogue about how regulators can strike the right balance between innovation and responsible governance. - James A. Jones Jr, Veteran and Fraternal Relations Manager, Arrow International

Workshop 2 – From Awareness to Action: Combating Human Trafficking in Licensed Establishments

This workshop highlights the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission's initiatives to identify, prevent, and combat human trafficking in licensed alcohol establishments. Participants will learn how TABC collaborates with law enforcement, community organizations, and industry partners to detect warning signs, conduct effective investigations, and support victims. The session will emphasize actionable strategies, regulatory tools, and partnership opportunities that move beyond awareness to create measurable impact in protecting vulnerable individuals. - Ron Swenson, Chief of Enforcement Division and Lt. Henry Guevara, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission

National Liquor Law Enforcement Association 38th Annual Conference

Workshop 3 - The Human-Agent Partnership: Empowering Public Safety Workers with AI

Digital transformation isn't just about technology—it's about empowering people and improving service delivery. This session is for public safety leaders who want to learn how Salesforce and Agentforce AI can serve as a "digital teammate" for their staff for licensing, permits, and inspections. We'll showcase how AI handles repetitive, time-consuming tasks, freeing up employees and officers to focus on more complex, high-value work. More importantly, we'll demonstrate how this powerful human-agent partnership can create a better, more transparent digital experience for constituents and enable a more seamless and efficient journey from the initial intake to the final inspection. Discover how this holistic approach can boost employee satisfaction, improve decision making, and drive mission success. - Dilshad Albert, Chief Revenue Officer, Cloud SynApps Inc., Sabih Khan, Global Industry Lead and Advisor for Public Safety and Justice at Salesforce, and Gregory Chapman, Solution Engineer, Cloud SynApps Inc., Lt. Jim Diana and Lt. Michael Loiseau, Delaware Division of Alcohol and Tobacco Enforcement

Workshop 4 - Hemp Products and Beyond: Chemistry, Compliance, and the Delta Divide

As hemp-infused products gain traction in the marketplace, regulators, industry leaders, and law enforcement are facing complex challenges in balancing innovation with public health and safety. This workshop will explore the science behind hemp-derived cannabinoids, focusing on the distinctions between Delta-8 THC and Delta-9 THC, their effects, and their legal standing under federal and state frameworks. Participants will gain a clear understanding of the chemistry that differentiates these compounds, the compliance hurdles businesses encounter, and the regulatory ambiguity shaping enforcement decisions. By bridging science with policy, this session will equip attendees with the knowledge needed to navigate the rapidly evolving hemp-infused product landscape. – Dr. Matthew D. Curran, Director of Food Safety, Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and Chief Claire Espada-Diaz, Bureau of Law Enforcement Division of Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco Florida Department of Business and Professional Regulation

9:00 – 10:00 a.m. General Session – The Supply Chain Under Siege: Alcohol Theft, Cargo Crimes, and Organized Networks

This workshop, presented by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, examines the growing threat of alcohol theft and cargo crimes driven by organized criminal networks. Participants will explore how high-value alcohol shipments are targeted, the methods used by theft rings, and the investigative strategies TABC employs to disrupt these operations. The session will highlight collaborative efforts with law enforcement, industry stakeholders, and supply chain partners to protect product integrity, secure distribution channels, and safeguard the regulated alcohol market. Ron Swenson, Chief of Enforcement Division and Lt. Henry Guevara, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission

10:15-11:15 a.m. General Session - Tied House vs. Exclusive Outlet: Breaking Down Differences, Key Elements, and Exceptions

This session will explore two cornerstone trade practice provisions under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act: Tied House and Exclusive Outlet. We will examine the distinctions between these violations, discuss the exceptions outlined in Subpart D related to tied house activities, and highlight how beverage mandates and Requests for Proposals (RFPs) may raise exclusive outlet concerns. The workshop will provide attendees with practical insights into compliance obligations, enforcement considerations, how federal and state regulators can work together, and real-world scenarios to help state regulators understand federal trade practice laws and how to navigate these complex issues with confidence. - Aniko Kasprian, Industry Education Technical Advisor, Office of Outreach at TTB.
