Have You Ever Considered the Option of Outsourcing Your Accounting Tasks?

Tom Pesch - CPA CGMA/CMA

Many business owners are finding that with the increased competition for qualified staff in the finance and accounting area, an outsourced option is the way to go.

Outsourced accounting can be utilized at several levels.

Full on "Take it over" The outsourced accounting firm can handle all the recording of revenues, bill paying and the payroll administration. Results include a monthly financial statements with metrics comparing your business to others in your industry.

Mid level support of your accounting team. Our outsourced accounting team can assist your internal staff with tasks such reconciliation, posting receipts against receivables and helping with various tasks that are assigned by your internal accounting team.

Monthly CFO review of your accounting teams work. Oversight and discussion with the business owner and accounting team to include comparison of actual results to metrics in your industry, along with strategic advice regarding cash flows and taxes.
