WinterFest 2023 Edition!

WinterFest Weekend is Here!

We've been hard at work since October, and we're so excited that WinterFest is here this weekend! I've had a great time promoting the fantastic events we've got planned and would like to take this opportunity to thank our committee, sponsors, and everyone helping with this weekend's activities. Many hands make light work, and the contributions of so many are critical to the event's success. We've worked hard to have "something for everyone," including lots of free events, so we hope to see you out there!

-Laura Palzkill, PACC Executive Director
