TEN NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS FOR YOUR SMALL BUSINESS

If there is one year that we can all put behind us, many would agree it's 2020. Despite this year's challenges, heartaches, and unpredictability – 2020 did leave us with several valuable lessons for us to build on.

Here are ten business New Years' resolutions that you may want to consider for a successful 2021.

1. Increase your online presence – Help attract new customers and build brand loyalty by strengthening your digital footprint in 2021. Now's the time to audit your website and social media pages to ensure user-friendliness and accuracy. By establishing a stronger foothold online, customers will be able to engage and hopefully purchase from you directly without ever walking into your store. Read BBB's tips on improving your website.
2. Maximize your agility – Forbes magazine says small businesses have a distinct advantage in 2021 by having the ability to adapting quickly in an unpredictable climate. Be flexible and open to shifting focus. Use 2020 as a learning experience and start to plan for different scenarios should state restrictions stick around.
3. Engage with customers – Ramp-up your customer service skills. Communicate with existing customers by emailing them business updates, promotions, and sales. Ensure that you're responding to customer inquiries and comments on social media in a timely fashion. According to Hubspot, 80% of customers expect an online response within 24 hours.
4. Embrace technology – Consumer expectations changed in 2020, and what resulted is an emerging customer with greater demand for speed, convenience, transparency, and customer service. Embracing technology and making it easier for customers to communicate with you online can help build trust and lead to more business. Need help with social media? Here are five tips your business can start using today.
5. Reduce costs – Save money wherever you can do so without compromising quality. According to the US Bureau of Labor Statistics, roughly one-third of small businesses fail because the owner runs out of money. 2021 could be a great time to reduce overhead, market on a budget, and go green. Here are seven ways BBB recommends your business reduce costs heading into the new year.

“SUCCESS IS NOT FINAL;
FAILURE IS NOT FATAL: IT IS THE COURAGE TO CONTINUE THAT COUNTS.”
– WINSTON CHURCHILL

6. Foster a positive workplace culture – According to Forbes, a strong and thriving workplace culture is considered an essential element for maintaining employee satisfaction and high performance. With many employees working remotely indefinitely, doubling down on company values, transparency, and communication with team members are three key ingredients to help keep the workplace positive.

7. Leverage Customer Reviews - Reputation can mean everything, especially for a small business owner trying to attract and retain customers. You want to tell customers that your business is trustworthy, ethical, and transparent – and what better way to illustrate that story than through online customer reviews. Check out Power of Customer Reviews on Small Businesses to see how BBB tries to ensure accuracy and transparency with its review program.

8. Exercise transparency - Operating with transparency builds relationships that turn curious browsers into buyers and buyers into raving fans. Always be transparent, from admitting missteps and correcting them, to inviting your customers to engage with you online and through social media. Authentic interaction with your clients goes a long way to building customer trust.

9. Invest in the community - By giving back or helping your neighbors, you can build relationships and show that your company takes pride in the community. Consider volunteering in 2021 and getting more involved in your area. It's a great way to strengthen your company's reputation. Share moments on social media, and don't be shy showing how your brand is committed to helping make a difference. Read ways your business can impact the community.

10. Establish Trust - Customer trust can mean everything for an online business. With the internet flooded with information about every product or service, buyers can effectively make a purchase decision with just a few clicks. For many small businesses, finding a way to establish a foothold in a competitive market can be the biggest challenge. Giving your business a step up over the competition is always something to desire, and aiming for BBB Accreditation is a valuable way to do this. Accreditation requires the utmost trustworthiness, customer respect, and integrity, which can help your business stand out – especially during a pandemic. See the BBB Advantage.

Trust and transparency matter more now than ever before. In a market saturated with companies competing for customers, BBB Accreditation gives consumers confidence that they are dealing with an ethical and vetted business.

MEMBER HIGHLIGHT:

Loris Printing is a second generation family owned business serving North Central Ohio. Having been in business since 1966 we are well established in our community. Keeping with our printing foundation, we are proud to have kept printing in our name. Others refer to themselves as "graphics, or advertising", we're printers and proud of it!

In the 53 years we've been in business, much has changed. We transitioned from a 2 person mom and pop shop located in a garage to 15 employees and a 9,200 square foot building. With our recent acquisition we've expanded our total building space to nearly 18,000 square feet of production and warehouse space. We also changed how we print and expanded our offerings as we have adapted to the changes in technology.

■ ABOUT THE SEMINAR

Are you ready to take your next step? Are you ready to become a high-performance supervisor or manager?

This program is for new supervisors or for supervisors who haven't received much formal leadership training in their career. This is also a great refresher for people who have been in leadership positions for a while. We will discuss:

- What does a supervisor actually do? ■ The transition from peer to manager.
- What great leaders do and don't do! ■ Motivating team members.

A leadership style self-assessment is also being offered in this program. There will be no extra fee for this insightful assessment! We will discuss the various styles, strengths, and challenges of each style.

This workshop will offer participants a broad overview of some of the most important responsibilities of a leader today. Leadership competencies are learned on-the-job every day. However, having a new set of tools (or a renewed set) can significantly enhance a leader's competency. New supervisors who attend this training will be better prepared to take on the challenges of their new responsibilities much sooner. We use a video in this session to break down various leadership styles. People have reported being much more comfortable taking on their role of supervisor/manager after going through this workshop!

■ MEET OUR SPEAKER
