Our MACC Ambassadors took to the streets in September and October to do some local shopping and see what our downtown businesses were up to. Be on the lookout for them over the next couple of months as they deliver membership tags to you, our members!

Get the Chamber Connection

Small Business Saturday!

The first Small Business Saturday was held on November 27, 2010, with the idea founded by American Express. Their hopes were to get more people to shop at small businesses and increase awareness of how important it is to shop local or “shop small” as they have named it. Since then, it has grown into a national campaign and continues to grow every year, always being held on the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

This year, MACC is once again collaborating with the Marietta/Washington County Convention & Visitors Bureau to promote Small Business Saturday in Marietta. There will be promotional items such as door mats, shopping totes, pens and more passed out to our small businesses to promote the day.

MACC will be holding a window decorating contest between the area businesses. Vote for your favorite holiday window on the Marietta Area Chamber of Commerce Facebook page by “liking” your favorite window! Voting will be open from 9am on Small Business Saturday until 4pm on Monday, December 2.

In 2018, Marietta businesses saw a significant increase in excitement and money spent during Small Business Saturday. Consumers are starting to make this a tradition and communities across the country are seeing the day grow more every year.

Representatives from both organizations will be out & about on the “Shop Small” day of November 30 randomly passing out tote bags of goodies. Stick around after you finish your shopping & eating, it’s also the day of the lighted Merry-etta Christmas parade at 6pm sponsored by Marietta Main Street.

It’s going to be a jam-packed day for Marietta and we hope to see the stores, sidewalks & restaurants filled with people!

Four Times You Should Review Your Beneficiary Designations

Many of us take a set-it-and-forget-it approach to beneficiary designations on retirement accounts, life insurance policies, wills, and trusts. We create the document, we choose a beneficiary, and we consider the work complete. But the truth is, many life-changing moments are times to thoroughly review those beneficiary designations to make sure they're up to date.

When to review your beneficiary designations

When you divorce or remarry. At these milestones, many people remember to update their wills, but they may forget about other accounts such as IRAs and life insurance policies. If you forget to update a document, the beneficiaries may not be your kids or new spouse as you prefer. Instead, your ex-spouse could wind up as the designee.

When you have a child or a grandchild. The time that your family grows might be the time to consider making a child a beneficiary. You can do this individually within a policy or account, or you may want to consider using a trust. You should also revisit primary/secondary IRA beneficiary designations when a child becomes a legal adult, Huber says. If you want several children to split funds from your IRAs, make it clear in your designations. Legally, a sole beneficiary is not obligated to share funds with a family member you haven't named as a beneficiary. Even if the beneficiary decides to do so, it could trigger a gift tax for the recipient.

When a beneficiary dies. Some individuals may outlive their beneficiary, whether it's a spouse or a child. If, for example, a deceased person is named in your life insurance policy as a beneficiary, it could pose complications. Even if you had named contingent beneficiaries, it's still better to have the paperwork updated. This will mean less time and effort to get those benefits to the right recipient.

When beneficiaries' financial needs change. As time passes, your beneficiaries' financial circumstances may evolve. Maybe you named your dependent children and your spouse equal beneficiaries on an IRA. Now those children are adults with successful careers; they no longer need the money as much as your spouse would. Make sure your beneficiary designations reflect those changing needs.

Two common mistakes to avoid Conflicting designations. For example, perhaps you established an IRA when you were younger and named a sibling as a beneficiary. But years later, you created a will dividing your assets between your spouse and your children. However, beneficiary designations on IRAs and retirement plans supersede what's stated in a will or trust. Your spouse and children can try to use their interest in the will or trust to gain IRA assets; however, the actual IRA designated beneficiary will likely remain in control of the inherited IRA assets.

Incomplete designations. If you put your wishes on paper, but you don't sign the paper, or you forget to submit it this will create confusion and may cause challenges and delays or prevent passing the assets to the person you want to receive these funds.

Finally, whenever you review, take a holistic approach to beneficiary designations—reviewing all of your accounts together, instead of one at a time—because there can be a ripple effect. If you change one it may change what you want to do with the others.

MOVSC Supports Safety Town!

The MOVSC was recently named the top safety council in the State of Ohio out of 83 Safety Councils around the state. The MOVSC Board of Directors along with the MACC Board of Directors unanimously agreed to give back to the community with a portion of the award stipend designated to support the costs of all of the bike helmets for the 2020 Safety Town.

Safety Town is a nine day program for five and six-year-olds heading to or coming from kindergarten; teaching them what to do if they find themselves in a dangerous situation.

Children are taught boating safety, pet safety, water safety, railroad and street crossing, all thanks to the creator Sam Cook.

“Teaching and keeping our youth safe now will benefit all in the future workforce, we are proud and excited to be able to assist in this great program in our community,” stated MOVSC Board President Joan Zoller.

The check was presented to the Marietta Rotary Foundation Co-Chairs ~ Colleen Cook and Bob Kirkbride and Marietta Noon Rotary President Shawn Taylor.
