Summit Coalition for Community Health Improvement (SCCHI) seeks business input:

SCCHI is a county-wide collaborative, committed to identifying key health priorities in Summit County, coordinating action to improve population health, and promoting health equity for all. Summit County Public Health and the Hudson-based Alzheimer's Association Greater East Ohio Area Chapter are seeking local businesses and organizations interested in health improvement in Hudson and the county, that may be interested in sending a representative to participate in monthly coalition meetings, or providing business input through future focus groups or surveys. To learn more about the coalition, contact Andrew DeFratis at 234.284.2753 (adefratis@alz.org) or Elizabeth Foster at 330.926.5613 (efoster@schd.org.)
