Smitha Lukose-Khan is the Vice President, Branch Manager at Flushing Bank located in New Hyde Park.

Smitha has over 25 years of experience in the financial services industry. She is passionate about delivering an exceptional experience to her customers and ensuring that her team brings value to the communities that they serve. During her tenure, she has been responsible for managing complex centers with high transaction volumes and diverse clientele bases. Smitha is proud to be a transformational leader who continues to successfully deliver financial solutions to her customers and build strong alliances with business partners. Her passion for giving back to the community in which she was raised, drives both her professional and personal life.

Smitha currently serves on the Board of the Greater New Hyde Park Chamber. To support the Chamber's commitment of giving back to our community, she has helped organize the Chamber's Annual Holiday food drive which has grown exponentially since its inception. With the assistance and amazing generosity of local businesses and residents, last year a total of over 1,500 pounds of non-perishable food items were collected during the Holiday Season. The proceeds were all donated to local Organizations, Parishes, and Veteran's Service Agencies in Nassau County. To further support small businesses during the height of the pandemic, Smitha volunteered as a pickup site with the Chamber to provide free COVID test kits to local merchants in the community.

In conjunction with Flushing Bank, Smitha has continued to support local organizations to promote our community's cultural diversity, as well as provide financial literacy education to children and young adults. For our Seniors, she organized Fraud and Identity Theft Seminars to share valuable information to assist in protecting both identities and assets.

Smitha is steadfast in her commitment to making a difference and looking forward to building stronger and more prosperous communities. She resides in East Meadow with her husband and two daughters.
