MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Ashley C. Curry, Vestavia Hills Mayor

Happy New Year everyone!
How many of you made
New Year's resolutions?

I am reminded what Mark Twain said, "Giving up smoking is easy. I have done it hundreds of times." I also remember the saying, "New Year's resolutions come in one year and go out the other." Many of us have already forgotten or discontinued the resolutions that we made, but City staff and elected officials "resolve" to address the following items, plus many more, in 2019. We are committed to assuring that these resolutions are not forgotten!

We will begin the design phase of our Infrastructure and Community Spaces Plan including:

- Road improvements on Crosshaven Drive
- Sidewalk additions to Green Valley Road and Crosshaven Drive

CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

Jeff Downes, Vestavia Hills City Manager

"Times and conditions change so rapidly that we must keep our aim constantly focused on the future." — Walt Disney

This quote, from the master at creating a premier experience, is quite appropriate for the last few months in Vestavia Hills as it emphasizes that amidst change, we should keep focused on what makes our community special and, importantly, what can sustain the qualities that convinced us to make our lives here. The Western located in the Rocky Ridge Shopping Center announced that they will sell to Publix who will rebuild a 35,000 square foot location on the site. The Vestavia Hills location of Sprouts has closed its doors for good and Spectrum is relocating its Columbiana Road office to another part of the metro area. These

- Shaping of our new Wald Park to include a new swimming pool complex, additional ball fields, green space, walking trails, a miracle field and a dog park, just to name a few of the features
- Design and development of services to be offered at our new Community Building
- Renovations at the Cahaba Heights ballfields and the design and build plans for the "new" New Merkel house
- Additions to the Sicard Hollow Athletic Complex

We resolve to continue to address the opioid crisis that is sweeping the nation, our state, our counties and our city. On April 4 Vestavia Hills will host its second Community Awareness Breakfast. In addition to raising awareness about the opioid problem, we can now offer direction for addiction treatment and recovery changes were not anticipated as our crystal ball explored 2019. However, circumstances such as these are accepted by leaders such as Walt Disney and just lead to reinforcement of the need to keep focusing on our strategic plans designed to benefit Vestavia Hills during periods of change.

During this same period, Dr. Swaid Swaid announced the construction of an outpatient surgery center to be located on Highway 31. Dunkin' Donuts joined Baumhower's Victory Grille as "new to market" restaurants to be built along the 31 corridor. AMC Theatres completed an incredible remodel of its Vestavia Hills location establishing a long-term commitment to the location. Publix announced the opening of a new Liberty Park store along

Todd Freeman, Ed.D., Vestavia Hills City Schools Superintendent

Multiple Paths to a Bold Future

Last year, more than 90 percent of Vestavia Hills High School graduates had plans to attend college. That percentage has been consistent for many years. The vast majority of our graduates will also complete the requirements to earn a four-year degree, significantly more than state and national averages. Where the difference lies is in the array of fields of study that students will pursue. Knowing those career interests is important to our mission of creating opportunities for students to experience learning without limits.

Every eighth grader in our school system completes a career interest inventory. Students in high school can also indicate their interests on assessments like the ACT. The majority of students indicate interest in fields that include human services, education, health services, arts, and technology. Workforce data shows that some of these are among the most in-demand, high-wage careers in the state and nation. A recent article by the World Economic Forum noted that the arts, computer science and engineering were the courses that students “liked the most.”

Creating multiple paths for students to prepare for college and career choices is a pillar of our mission. It is important to be mindful of the trajectory of career opportunities in the future based on workforce trends. Equally important is providing meaningful learning experiences that support skills and attributes necessary to be successful in life. Our goal should be that every course we offer embeds opportunities for students to sharpen their academic, interpersonal, and employability skills.

Students at VHHS have the opportunity to take a myriad of courses that support their preparation for college, career, and life. In addition to our award-winning arts and AP programs, courses are offered in drafting and design, construction, health science, engineering, business and marketing. Each of these provides a unique opportunity to learn through rich work-embedded experiences. Courses in these areas are the essence of how relevant and practical learning is designed.

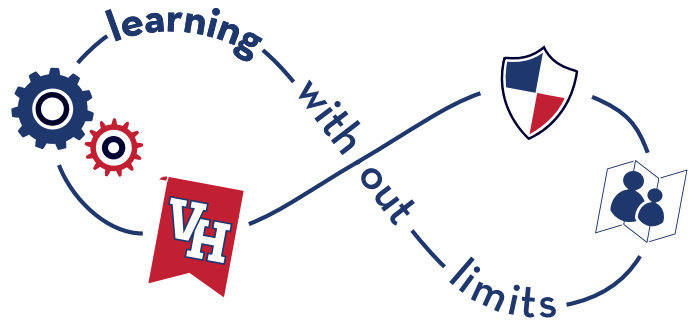

The World Economic Forum article also gives a clarion call that we must be ahead of the curve when thinking about what our students need to know and how they learn. A forward-thinking school system must equip students with skills for what cannot yet be seen. That means our focus must remain on preparing them for an ever-changing and limitless highway of opportunity.

SCHOOL SYSTEM EARNS AN “A” ON STATE REPORT CARD

Vestavia Hills City Schools earned an “A” on the Alabama State Report Card released in December by the Alabama State Department of Education. All eight of the district’s schools also received an “A” on their respective report cards.

The Alabama State Report Card score was assigned using prior school year data from a wide variety of sources. The report card grade reflects several different factors including academic achievement, academic growth, chronic absenteeism, as well as graduation rates and college and career readiness.

The school system’s score is a reflection of the array of opportunities provided to students at all levels. The school system increased access last year to the Academy of Craft Training program in Birmingham and increased offerings of Advanced Placement (AP) courses. Vestavia Hills High School administered AP exams to 424 students — an all-time high — and 75 percent of test-takers earned a score that qualified them for college credit.

services with a number of agencies that partner with the City in addressing this issue.

We resolve to continue to address crimes directed against our elderly. Vestavia Hills will host an event that will focus on financial exploitation of our senior citizens. The National Center on Elder Abuse reports that the number and complexity of reports involving financial abuse of vulnerable and older adults has grown significantly over the past decade. Unfortunately, an overwhelming number of the perpetrators are family members or caregivers. Additional event details to come.

We resolve to continue the high level of public safety for our residents. Our police and fire personnel are committed to maintaining the level of excellence that you expect. The same applies for all of our City employees as we maintain the high quality of life that makes Vestavia Hills a desirable place to call home.

We plan to keep our resolutions. What resolutions will you fulfill?

with the City's continued investment in parks and infrastructure throughout the city. If we let a few disappointments overwhelm the positive momentum that our community is seeing and correspondingly lose focus, we would disappoint Mr. Disney.

Time and again, the residents of our city have placed priority with a quality of education, top notch recreation and a desire to improve infrastructure. This is coupled with sustenance of top public safety aspects of the community and healthy growth of our economy. These can only happen when we are not distracted by a few changes to our way of life. The ebb and flow of implementing a City strategic plan is reality. The City staff will continue its focus on implementing the plan. As residents, you can continue to take overt actions to support these efforts.

Residents can remember to shop local. A decision to shop local is an investment in "staying focused" that will pay dividends for all of us. Be on the lookout for information about the Vestavia Hills Chamber of Commerce's eat local campaign, coming this summer. I hope you will pay attention to the message and participate as warranted. Residents can continue to provide timely input to decision makers when various alternatives are presented to move our plans along. And most importantly, residents can be the biggest cheerleaders for the community. As encouraging words go much further than discouraging words when referencing Vestavia Hills, residents are our city's best ambassadors.

I am excited about the future of Vestavia Hills. As Walt Disney created a second to none experience for park visitors, my desire is to continue efforts to support a second to none quality of life experience in our community. I hope your new year is going well. Let's keep focused on the incredibly positive future for our fine city.

While practicing a motocross jump, Brayden (BB) Butler fell and suffered a brain bleed. It would take half a year and surgeons, physicians, nurses and therapists to help him recover. Fortunately, for BB and thousands of other children, Children's of Alabama is ranked among the top hospitals for children by U.S. News & World Report.

CPR CERTIFICATION

If a friend or family member suddenly went into cardiac arrest, would you know how to react? Did you know that beginning CPR immediately after a patient goes into cardiac arrest may double or even triple the chances of that patient surviving? Each year more than 350,000 patients experience cardiac arrest outside of the hospital.

The key to survival for these patients is early bystander CPR and early activation of the 911 system. The Vestavia Hills Fire Department offers American Heart Association CPR certification for citizens on a regular basis. The cost of the class is $35 which covers the cost of the certification card. To view a class schedule or to register, please visit <https://vhal.org/departments/fire-department/> and click "CPR Training & Registration" at the bottom of the page.
