Society of Wetland Scientists South Atlantic Chapter Student Travel Award
(revised January 2016)

The South Atlantic Chapter of the Society of Wetland Scientists (SWS) offers a student travel award to support graduate students presenting wetland research at the SWS annual meeting. The 2016 annual meeting will be held in Corpus Christi, TX, May 31-June 4, 2016 (<http://swsannualmeeting.org/>). The student must be enrolled in a public or private university located within the South Atlantic Chapter's region and must be a member of SWS. We will award $500 to two students. The Chapter's Awards and Executive Committees will judge the applicants based on the scientific quality and importance of their research as described in the abstract. Please submit your abstract as instructed on the SWS Abstract Submissions page for the annual meeting (<http://swsannualmeeting.org/symposia-abstract-submission>). Further, applicants must also submit their abstract, by electronic mail no later than February 25, 2016, to David Bailey, Awards Chair (david.e.bailey2@usace.army.mil). This step must not be overlooked as the student will not be eligible to win the award if a copy of the abstract is not sent to the committee chair. The winning student must attend the Chapter's business meeting held during the SWS annual meeting for acknowledgement and photographs. To become a member of SWS, visit the membership page at <http://www.sws.org/Membership/join-today.html>.
