

Best Teambuilding Opportunity Music City Jam Session

Our team at Maple Ridge Events was tasked with creating an immersive team building activity focused around our client's company mission that had an element of corporate social responsibility. The Music City Jam Session fit the bill as a feel-good afternoon of music, creativity and teamwork for a company and their employees looking to take giving back to a new level. One that would benefit local at-risk music students who couldn't otherwise afford an instrument of their own and included a surprise ending that brought the students and attendees to tears.
