OPPORTUNITIES

Online Banner Advertising

ASAsite.com

The association website is an ideal medium for reaching automotive professionals. ASA is known as a leading source of valuable information, member interaction and training with the website being an essential part of supplying that information to members and others within the industry. It stands to reason that ASA's website is a perfect place to gain added visibility. Visitors access the site by its URL or by linking to it from one of the many search engines and related websites where ASA is referenced.

AutoInc.org

AutoInc.org boasts an appealing look and innovative features, making it interactive and informative for its loyal readers. The site contains much of the great content of the print version of the magazine with the added capabilities of online access and search functions. Since the site was launched in 1999, AutoInc.org has become a reliable and important "go to" resource for automotive service and repair professionals, as well as consumers.

Sponsored Content

Educate your audience about the value of your product or service through Sponsored Content. This highly visible opportunity allows you an abundance of space to connect with your target market.

ASA NEWS-NETWORK

Get your target message in front of weekly readers with the ASA News-Network.

This electronic e-newsletter is delivered to 3,300 subscriber in-boxes directly bringing online interaction back to the family of ASA sites, including ASAsite.com and AutoInc.org. Partnering this with the ASA website advertising, can push real traffic to your site and deliver your message to those key buyers you want to reach.

ASA Mobile App

Directly reach the leaders and decision-makers with your branded mobile ad. ASA's Mobile App is an excellent way to get in front of our engaged audience of 700 and growing automotive professionals. It's a budget-friendly option to fit most any marketing plan!

ASA EVENTS

ASA Annual Business Meeting

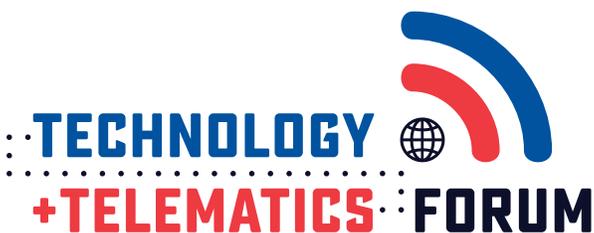

ASA's Annual Business Meeting is an opportunity to bring together members and nonmembers from the service and collision repair sectors in an energetic and informative training setting. The multi-day event is packed with educational offerings, association meetings, and unique networking opportunities designed for maximum interaction and positive growth.

Multishop Symposium (MSO)

The MSO Symposium is an event led and attended by experienced, high-growth executives from the leading MSOs (multi-shop operators) within North America. Attendees of the Symposium gain useful and original information from key decision-makers, while engaging in unique opportunities to exchange business knowledge with many leaders from within the collision repair industry. The MSO Symposium program is relevant for owners of large, yet independent collision repair facilities, OEM collision repair program managers, insurance professionals and members of multi-shop operators.

MSO SYMPOSIUM

Technology & Telematics Forum

The Technology & Telematics Forum (TTF) provides the opportunity to discuss next-level issues facing mechanical and collision repairers. TTF is made up of panel discussions and engaging sessions with leading industry experts who are driving the technology in automobiles today. By attending this event, attendees have access to the latest technological advancements to repair their customers' vehicles.
