The U.S. Population, and Therefore the Nation's Workforce, is Becoming Increasingly Diverse

Only 56% of the 87 million millennials in the country identify as white, as compared to 72% of the 76 million members of the baby boomer generation.

In the 40 years between 1980 and 2020, the white working-age population will have declined from 83% of the nation's total to 63% while the number of minority workers will have doubled.

An Emerging Multicultural 50-plus

By 2050, Black, Hispanic, Asian, and other non-white groups will make up of the 50-plus population, compared with 26% in 2015. This will influence the types of goods and services that the 50-plus population consumes and invests in.

45%

The Emerging Multicultural Workforce is Seeking More Diverse and Inclusive Workplaces For Several Reasons...

D&I is a Business Imperative as Much as it is a Moral one

- 78% of employees who responded to a Harvard Business Review study said they work at organizations that lack diversity in leadership positions (Source Harvard Business Review)
- 45% of American workers have experienced discrimination and/or harassment in the past year (Source: Gallup)
- The majority of women in the workforce feel excluded from decision making, do not feel comfortable expressing their opinions, and do not feel as though they can succeed (Source Harvard Business Review)

Diversity Without Inclusion is Not Enough

Diversity

Refers to who's at work, ie who is recruited, hired, and promoted by a company. Diversity is the representation of a range of traits and experiences in a company's workforce. These characteristics include gender, race, physical ability, religion, age, and socioeconomic status, among others

Inclusion

Inclusion is the degree to which employees feel valued, respected, accepted and encouraged to fully participate in the organization. A company's workforce may be diverse, but if employees do not feel safe, welcomed, and valued, that company isn't inclusive and will not perform to its highest potential.

D&I TANGIBLE BENEFITS

Retention

Innovation

Collaboration & Growth

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion is a Workplace Imperative.

By The numbers:

- Companies in the top quarter for racial/ethnic diversity are 35% more likely to surpass peers, while those in the same bracket for gender diversity are 15% more likely to do the same
(Source: McKinsey)
- 67% of job seekers consider workplace diversity an important factor when considering employment opportunities (Source Glassdoor)
- Companies with higher than average diversity had 19% higher innovation revenues
- Higher representation of women in C-suite level positions results in 34% greater returns to shareholders.
- 50% of current employees want their workplace to do more to increase diversity.
- Orgs with above-average gender diversity outperform companies with below-average diversity and engagement by 46% to 58%.

Fostering a Diverse and Inclusive Workplace Culture Starts With Leadership

Inclusion is an act of leadership that Requires:

- Commitment: Inclusive leaders are dedicated to D&I as a values proposition.
- Courage: They are humble by nature and encourage others to contribute their unique ideas.
- Cognizance of bias: They are aware of their own blind spots & work to quash internal biases.
- Curiosity: They are open-minded, curious about others, and listen without judgement
- Culturally intelligent: They learn and recognise the importance of other cultures.
- Collaboration: They empower people to bring their lived experience to work together
