Letter From The Chamber President

WELCOME TO THE ULSTER COUNTY REGION!

Welcome to the Ulster County Region. We are a true four season vacationland with a quality of life second to none. Outdoor recreational opportunities abound in our region, from the majestic Catskill Mountains in the north to the Shawangunk Mountains in the south. Add the scenic Hudson River and you'll find something to do in our great outdoors in the Ulster County Region twelve months a year.

Our amazing quality of life has attracted vacationers to our area since the mid-1800s, first to escape the heat of the big cities and relax. More recently to climb our mountains, hike and bike our trails, boat and swim in our waterways and enjoy an abundance of clean, fresh air.

What has transpired lately, however, is even more exciting, as scores of vacationers have decided not to leave us. They've brought their families to live in Ulster County and now they're relocating their businesses here as well. By comparison to the larger metropolitan areas, our residential and commercial real estate prices and taxes are affordable and, with the latest advances in technology, it's very easy to work remotely from Kingston or any one of our twenty towns.

If you're new to the Ulster County Region or you've lived and worked here all your life, the Ulster County Regional Chamber of Commerce is here for you, providing valuable programs and assistance for your business or organization and offering outstanding networking opportunities.

If you're not yet a Chamber Member and would like to learn about the benefits of Chamber Membership, you're invited to attend one of our great monthly Networking Mixers and see what we're all about. Contact Jess Davis, Senior Director, Marketing and Member Services - Jess@UlsterChamber.org.

We look forward to meeting you and helping you grow your business or organization.

A clean energy future? Now that's a bright idea.

The electric grid has come a long way since Thomas Edison first brought electricity to Newburgh, forming one of the companies that would eventually become Central Hudson. Today, that legacy of innovation continues. As we continue to move toward a sustainable energy future, Central Hudson is making investments to upgrade aging infrastructure and recover more quickly following severe storms while integrating new clean energy sources.

Accommodations

MORE THAN A COMFORTABLE BED

We've known it all along. Now everybody in America does, too. Mohonk Mountain House is one of the most spectacular resorts in the country. In 2023, the Mohonk House, a National Historic Landmark in New Paltz, placed prominently in every category for which it was nominated in the USA Today's Readers' Choice Awards, including No. 2 honors for Best All-Inclusive Resort and Best Hotel Restaurant in America. Mohonk also ranked in the top 10 in the country for Best Eco-Friendly Resorts, Best Family Resorts and Best Destination Resorts.

Though the Victorian retreat has grabbed national headlines over the decades, their rankings in USA Today feels particularly gratifying to the family—the stewards of the hotel built by Albert and Alfred Smiley beginning in 1869.

“We're especially honored because we are a relatively small, independent, family-owned and operated property. To garner this kind of national recognition, we feel very proud,” says Eric Gullickson, Mohonk's president and fifth-generation Smiley family member. “It really speaks to our customer base and the consistent, friendly service and unique value we provide in the resort space. We've been in business, serving and employing hundreds of thousands of people for 154 years. When you maintain and sustain a business for that long, I suppose you inherently gain a reputation as an iconic property.”

The towering castle surrounded by crystalline lake views and craggy cliffs looks like a scene straight out of Europe. Offering modern luxury in an old-world setting, the four-season hotel features 266 guest rooms, unlimited recreation, wellness programs, farm-to-table cuisine, a newly renovated spa and impeccable customer service.

“It's an incredibly unique and special place with opportunities for recreation and renewal,” Gullickson says. “What truly sets us apart is our commitment to the natural surroundings, continuity of my family's care and attention to the quality of services to our guests.”

And it's not just Mohonk that enchants the senses. Guests who book at the historic 75-acre Buttermilk Falls Inn & Spa in Milton marvel equally at the posh rooms and wooly alpacas grazing on the grounds. Buttermilk features 18 rooms, including 10 at the original colonial homestead known as the Anning Smith House, which survived a British attack in 1777.

The inn gets high ratings for its animal sanctuary and recently renovated restaurant, Henry's at the Farm. It continues to evolve and is tripling the size of its premium spa. Look for three infinity pools, 12 treatment rooms, a sauna, steam room and more at the end of 2024.

“Buttermilk Falls Inn & Spa is a visitor's dream,” says Morgan Doyle, the events planning manager. “During the day, you can explore the grounds and enjoy our animal sanctuary and pristine grounds. Not only do you get the treasure of an 18th-century restored inn that is rich with history, but our world-class spa provides relaxing services to help rejuvenate you. After that, you can have a fine dining experience at Henry's."

That's just the thing about our Ulster County hotels. They know it takes more than a flat-screen TV and citrus-scented toiletries to please guests. Places that do it up right include Diamond Mills Hotel & BLACKBARN Tavern in Saugerties; Hotel Kinsley in Kingston; Emerson Resort & Spa in Mount Tremper and Honor's Haven Retreat & Conference Center in Ellenville.

Hutton Brickyards, with 31 riverside cabins, and AutoCamp in Saugerties offer luxury glamping options, while Rocking Horse Ranch Resort in Highland channels the inner cowboy. Looking for a groovy vibe? Take the NYS Thruway exit to Woodstock and put up for the night at Hotel Dylan.

For a bit more familiarity, check in at the Hampton Inn by Hilton in Kingston and New Paltz; Best Western Plus, Residence Inn, Courtyard by Marriott and the Holiday Inn & Express Suites, all in Kingston; Howard Johnson Inn, Comfort Inn, and Holiday Inn Express & Suites in Saugerties, and America's Best Value Inn in New Paltz, to name a few.

And there's no shortage of intimate spaces such as Schwartz's Inn in the heart of Kingston's Stockade District or Mountain Meadows Bed & Breakfast in New Paltz, where the innkeepers spoil you with snug beds, country breakfasts and mesmerizing mountain views. In Ulster County, your keys to a dreamy night await.

Business & Industry

SEEING THE LIGHT

One of the leading manufacturers in Ulster County, Viking Industries is marking its 50th anniversary in Ulster County this year and is using the occasion to increase its manufacturing space by more than 50%.

The company manufactures corrugated cardboard and other packaging products in an 80,000-square-foot facility on Ohioville Road in New Paltz, which will soon include a 46,000-square-foot expansion for the next generation of workers.

“We’re adding some automated conveyor lines and some higher-speed production equipment to allow us to expand our offerings and respond better to the market growth that’s out there,” says Richard Croce, the company President and CEO.

The Croce family has been in the packaging business for five generations, getting its start in 1892 when Ferdinand Dominick Croce began F.D. Croce Co. in New York City.

The business evolved and in the 1970s was providing produce crates with corrugated partitions for the many apple farmers in the Hudson Valley. When the partitions became difficult to source, Croce’s grandfather, Leo “Russell” Croce, started Viking Industries in 1973 to provide those partitions for F.D. Croce Co.

Viking Industries continued to grow under Croce’s father, Rich Croce Sr., with four additions between 1978 and 2006.

Croce said the company mantra has always been “Find the need, fill the need and make it fun.”

“We have an obsession with meeting our customers’ needs and making ourselves more reliable than if we were a machine sitting on our customers’ floors,” he said.

“My job is to make good decisions so that the people who work for us have a place to come to work tomorrow. I think that’s always kind of what’s driven us is taking care of our employees, our customers and our vendors. You do right by those three groups of people, and I think good things end up happening.”

Viking’s expansion will initially result in 10 new jobs for a workforce total of 95.

Another company brightening our future is RBW, a 100,000-square-foot lighting design and manufacturing company for LED lighting products on Boices Lane in Kingston. The company opened in Brooklyn in 2007 but recently moved its global headquarters to Ulster County and now has 55 full-time employees.

“We produce wall sconces, pendent lighting and chandeliers,” says Charles

RBW Factory, Kingston

Brill, the company's managing partner. "What really distinguishes our brand is we're one of the first lighting companies to be B Corp certified."

A certified B Corp is one of a group of 6,000 global companies committed to making a positive net impact on our communities environmentally. RBW has twice been listed on Inc. 5000 as one of the fastest-growing private companies in America.

The company has a starting wage above $20 on shop floor, no-cost health care insurance, guaranteed 3 percent 401K with no contribution and profit sharing.

"We're thinking of a business model that really gives back to our team and our community, and we've got a great group," Brill says. "We're working here to grow our business. It helps when we consider them our most valuable resource, which they are."

Other lighting companies in our area are Zumtobel Lighting and SELUX, both in Highland.

Some of Ulster County's manufacturers make an impression far beyond our borders, including Amthor Welding in Kingston, Optimum Window in Ellenville, Fair-Rite Products in Wallkill, Bailey Pottery Equipment Corp. in Kingston and Ametek Rotron in Woodstock.

Other industry leaders include Usheco Inc., Community Products, Community Manufacturing Solutions and Carole Amper Inc., all in Kingston, and Wineracks.com in Tillson. Immune Schein, Markertek and Edwards Semiconductor Solutions in Saugerties keep the economy humming in northern Ulster County.

Brill said Ulster County's economy is "poised for growth" and provides a great opportunity for companies to invest.

"It has so much infrastructure and a vibrant community of people from all over the world have chosen to make this their home," he said. "It's a bright future for everyone in Ulster County."

A Community That Cares

COMPASSIONATE CARING

Steve Miccio never forgot what it was like when he was hospitalized in the '90s for a mental health crisis.

"I was diagnosed with bipolar disorder. I was having a serious manic episode," said Miccio, the chief executive officer at People USA, a peer-run behavioral health and wellness organization with an office on Broadway in Kingston.

"It was traumatic. It was scary. Nobody was talking to me. The doctor came and put me in the mental health unit of the hospital. There was no mention of hope or recovery. I lost my dignity and sense of purpose of who I was."

That experience sparked a fire in Miccio. After his recovery, he hooked up with People USA and has been on a mission to make sure it never happens to anyone else.

"Over the years, we saw the need to not only provide advocacy, but some alternative services that were peer-run, and we had opportunities to start to develop those services," he said.

An important one is having people in hospital emergency rooms to help those being screened for psychiatric care have a better and less traumatic experience. People USA has also sponsored supportive housing and respite home for hospital diversion when someone just needs a listening ear. The first location was in Milton, but now there are four with three more on the way.

"People stay one to seven days and it's more of a bed and breakfast experience," he said. "It's less traumatic and a better outcome to stay there."

The group also operates a stabilization center on Broadway in Kingston, 24-7

"It's an instant access to care, which is something that's missing in our system," Miccio says. "The whole focus is providing excellent care and opportunities for people, so they don't have to stay married to the mental health or substance abuse world. We provide compassionate care. That's what we call it."

Reher Center For Immigrant Culture and History, Kingston

Other local organizations that provide life-saving addiction and mental health counseling include Step One Child & Family Guidance Center Addiction Services and Samadhi.

Another not-for-profit organization that enhances life in our region is the Reher Center For Immigrant Culture and History.

"As a museum and a cultural center, we host programs and exhibits that connect the community with its past," says Jackie Lieske, the center's interim executive director. "We connect people with the history of Kingston, and we also connect people with stories from the present from our immigrant neighbors."

The Jewish Reher family came from Poland in 1908 and opened a popular bakery in Kingston's Rondout that catered to other immigrants, mostly Christians.

"They left so much of it exactly as it was. It's like a time capsule," Lieske said. "We honor their legacy by fostering belonging in the community. In fact, that's in our mission."

The center offers free admission to its gallery and museum and a sliding scale

People USA, Kingston

admission for bakery tours. Thanks to a grant, all of Reher's public programs are free. The organization offers cooking classes, oral history days and teaches people how to interview family for genealogy.

Lieske said the center also takes part in clothing drives and partners with others in the community such as Ulster Literacy, Bard College and the Kingston Area Library. We always try to contribute to their work in any way we can with our expertise," she said.

Ulster County is home to many other non-profits and charities which practice that compassionate care, including Catholic Charities of Orange, Sullivan and Ulster; People's Place and its Wellness Empowerment Center; The Salvation Army, which provides a food pantry and soup kitchen, utility assistance and Christmas gifts; Family of Woodstock; and the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County and YWCA Ulster County, which marked its 100th anniversary in 2023.

The Arc Mid-Hudson, Resource Center for Accessible Living, Center for Spectrum Services, and Gateway Community Industries provide love and supportive services to those with special needs.

Others contributing in a big way to the cause are United Way of Ulster County, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Ulster County, Community Foundation of Ulster County, Ulster County Habitat for Humanity, Ulster Literacy Association, Hudson Valley Hospice, Circle of Friends for the Dying, and the Center for Creative Education.

Education

A DIVERSITY OF OPTIONS

Ulster County boasts a strong public education system and one of the partners quietly making that happen is Ulster County BOCES (Boards of Cooperative Educational Services.)

“Really at our core, our work is a vast extension to the schools in Ulster County and to their programs,” says Ulster BOCES Superintendent Jonah Schenker.

BOCES was created by the state in 1948 to assist school districts by offering shared educational programs and services that are difficult for school districts to provide in a viable and economic way. Ulster BOCES serves 1,200 students from eight different school districts in Ulster County (including Kingston, Onteora, Ellenville and Wallkill) with offerings in such areas as manufacturing, robotics, engineering, aviation, auto, cosmetology and culinary.

“Through BOCES, we’re able to take two kids from this district and three from another and now we have a program where we can meet these students’ needs and provide a classroom and school experience for them,” Schenker said. “They come to this campus where they can access integrated career and technical education. We become kind of a single-point conduit for industry to be able to interact with K-12.”

The programming includes training for skills “our industry partners are looking for,” Schenker said.

The education in our region is diverse. For example, Cornell Cooperative Extension links farmers and the community with research from Cornell University’s College of Agriculture and Life Science. The organization offers a plethora of offerings to “work in pursuit of economic vitality, ecological sustainability and social well-being,” according to Cornell’s website.

“We are an organization with an educational mission,” says Charlie Payne, Cornell’s outreach and engagement manager. “We always say at the end of the day it’s about enriching the lives of people in the community by using research-based solutions and the latest information from the land-grant university and in New York State, that’s Cornell.

“We use all of Cornell’s research and resources to educate the community on a variety of topics, from agriculture and horticulture to environmental science and natural resources to parenting and family.”

Cornell also runs the 4-H Positive Youth Development Program and offers programs on nutrition and access to food. Payne said this can happen through individual workshops, one-on-one training and consultation with experts.

“We’re kind of diverse in what we talk about, but we are an informal education opportunity for local communities,” Payne says.

Ulster County BOCES
(Boards of Cooperative Educational Services.)

Both of Ulster County's local colleges are led by new Presidents, Dr. Darrell Wheeler at four-year SUNY New Paltz and Dr. Alison Buckley at two-year SUNY Ulster.

SUNY New Paltz, a four-year college, offers more than 100 undergraduate and 50 graduate programs for its more than 6,000 students. The tuition and fees for in-state students is around $7,000 per year for in-state students living off campus.

The college always ranks high in surveys of affordability and quality from national publications. SUNY New Paltz was rated the No. 8 best public university in the Northeast and a "best value in higher education" by U.S. News & World Report's 2024 rankings.

SUNY New Paltz also earned high marks in the areas of undergraduate teaching, business, psychology and engineering programs.

SUNY Ulster, a two-year community college with an enrollment of 3,686, was ranked the No. 1 community college in the state in 2020 and 2021 based on its academics, affordability and other factors. Tuition is just $2,640 per semester.

Other colleges in the area include Bard College in Annandale-on-the-Hudson and Marist in Poughkeepsie, both just a short drive away.

Students on the autism spectrum can find a compassionate home at the Center for Spectrum Services, where educational and outreach programs are available.

For more specialized education, the county is home to the prestigious Woodstock School of Art; Woodland Playhouse, a day care in Phoenicia; and Raising Your Awareness About Narcotics (RYAN) in Saugerties for substance abuse awareness and help.

No matter what kind of education you're looking for, Ulster County will meet the need and have you on your way in your career goals.

Health & Wellness

A PRESCRIPTION FOR GOOD LIVING

Healthy communities are happy communities, and happy people have better mindsets. They're less stressed. They're more active. They contribute and engage more. They produce better in the workforce, and, let's face it, they live longer with less maladies. What's not to like about that?

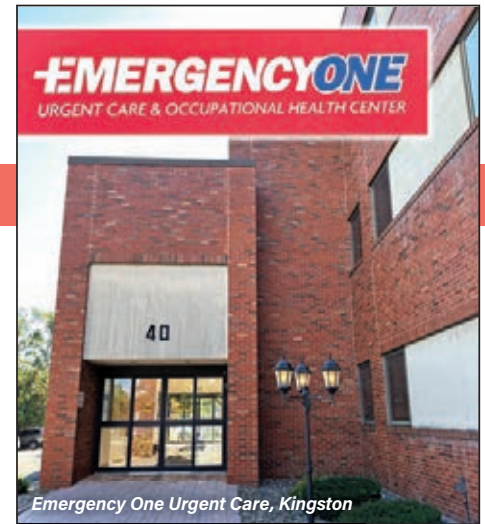

In Ulster County, a healthy, vibrant community is everybody's business, and we've got the goods—as in sound preventative programs and advanced medical systems—to bring it to fruition.

Positive changes are always happening at WMCHHealth's HealthAlliance Hospital, one of the nation's most technologically advanced community hospitals. Officials announced late last year that the hospital had received Level 3 Trauma Center designation by the New York Department of Health. A $66 million partnership with global health giant Philips for advanced imaging means more precise diagnoses with quicker results, more efficient monitoring and an overall more comfortable patient experience, according to officials.

"Our New York State Level 3 Trauma service designation is yet another example of WMCHHealth's investment in HealthAlliance Hospital and the health and well-being of Ulster County and its surrounding communities," says Josh Ratner, chief executive officer of HealthAlliance of the Hudson Valley. "WMCHHealth is the unquestioned Hudson Valley leader in trauma care, and HealthAlliance Hospital's trauma services will be supported by WMCHHealth's comprehensive and integrated trauma care program, with a goal of keeping those in our community in need of trauma care close to home."

With "A" ratings for social responsibility, health equity, value of care and community benefit and a dedicated and engaged workforce, HealthAlliance Hospital is saving lives and caring for the community every day.

The new $113 million facility on Mary's Avenue in Kingston opened in December 2022 and offers advanced services, including a cardiac catheterization laboratory, emergency medicine, neurosciences and stroke intervention capabilities, a family birth center, advanced women's health, including urogynecology, behavioral health services and expanded surgical services available 24/7.

Additionally, WMCHHealth Physicians, a medical group in Kingston, offers advanced cardiology, primary-care medicine, pulmonology, endocrinology, gastroenterology, oncology, surgical services and women's health. To complement that, the HealthAlliance Healthy Village, a walkable health village, is located on Broadway in Kingston.

For less severe concerns, we've got the bases covered at Emergency One Urgent Care in Kingston, which is open beyond normal office business hours and most holidays. A team of board-certified doctors and caring specialists stand at the ready to treat minor cuts and burns, coughs and flu, insect and animal bites and other non-life-threatening emergencies. Emergency One also offers occupational health services, meaning it can do employee physicals for local companies.

Nuvance Health's primary care team provides preventive care for the whole family, annual physicals and even wonderfully convenient telehealth visits. At the southern end of the county, the professionals at Ellenville Regional Hospital care for the sick and wounded.

Those recovering from surgical procedures find their way back to health and mobility at Ten Broeck Commons Rehabilitation & Nursing in Lake Katrine and Kingston Physical Therapy & Sports Rehab, PC in the Kingston Plaza, Kingston.

As far as preventative care, our forward-thinking entrepreneurs offer plenty of options to nurture your mind and body, including sports-based chiropractor Dr. David Smaldone, who customizes each chiropractic treatment using adjustments, cold laser, spinal traction, and myofascial release in order to get the best results possible.

There's also the new Wellness RX in Phoenicia, a nonprofit holistic-based pharmacy. Akpan Hypnotherapy, a Kingston practice led by hypnotherapist Isie Akpan, taps the power of the mind to help clients achieve personal goals, while Origin Wellness NY takes it a step further with a full-body cryosauna, salt room, infrared beds, power fitness and neurofeedback.

Naturally in a health-conscious area like Ulster, we've got scores of fitness venues like the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County, MAC Fitness, Hudson Valley Ambition, The Yoga House, Core Cardio Kickboxing, all in Kingston, 9 Essentials Pilates and Wellness in Saugerties, Whole Sky Yoga in Stone Ridge and Keith Bennett's Karate Academy, Kingston.

With all the above systems in place, it's no wonder why our populace is so happy, whole and well-adjusted.

AN AMAZING THING HAPPENS WHEN YOU PLANT A SEED.

Tourism

A LAND OF PLENTY

Seasoned travelers circle the globe in search of what we have here in Ulster County. From stirring theater and rich history to Olympic-style horse jumping and big car shows, Ulster County is an everything-under-the-sun vacation destination. Take a trip with us to see for yourself.

First, have a seat at Shadowland Stages in Ellenville. From the moment the curtain lifts, you'll recognize that this is no ordinary playhouse. Shadowland is fully engaged in its productions from start to finish—building the sets, housing the actors and presenting works that spark dialogue. You may even see the likes of Tom Hanks or John Cleese in the mountainous village for world premieres.

“We’re the only theater in Ulster County that has a contract with the Actors’ Equity Association,” says artistic director Brendan Burke. “What you’ll see are high-quality productions that feature the same folks you’d see on Broadway, and there’s something for everybody—musicals, comedy and new plays of social relevance.”

The theater is a good example of how the arts spurs economic development, Burke points out. “When I came here in 2005, there was only one restaurant, and now we have several on the same block as the theater. Our job is to bring folks to town, and on average, our weekly productions draw 700 people to Ellenville. They come from as far away as Jersey and Pike County, Penn. It’s nice to see Ellenville come to life.”

Our next stop is part of that overall revival. You’ve arrived at 90 Canal St. in Ellenville, home of the new Catskills Borscht Belt Museum, which opened in the summer of 2023 with a pop-up called “Vacationland! Catskills Resorts Culture 1900-1980.” It’s a precursor of what’s ahead. Come back in 2025 to see the permanent museum dedicated to preserving the history of the resorts and bungalow colonies that once catered to Jewish urbanites vacationing in the cool Catskill Mountains.

Next, set your GPS for Saugerties. We’re off to HITS, one of the jewels in the nationally known horse enterprise. The Saugerties showgrounds alone attract as many as 600 horses and 2,500 participants, along with countless spectators for 15 weeks of hunter-jumper shows.

“These visitors are looking for other amenities and things to do, and that’s where HITS, Saugerties and Ulster County demonstrate a perfect partnership in attracting equestrians from all over the United States and

Shadowland Stages in Ellenville

Canada,” says HITS Vice President John Eickman. “Easy access from the New York State Thruway, a charming business district, the backdrop of the Catskill Mountains, the extraordinary selection of fine-dining restaurants in the region - all this and more make HITS the destination of choice for horse people.”

While you’re already in Saugerties, stick around for the “Best Little Car Show in the Northeast.” Every July, the Sawyer Motors Car Show lures 15,000 people for the all-day affair centered on hotrod muscle cars and vintage vehicles. Dig the music on five stages and break out your handkerchiefs for the finale when organizers present generous checks to struggling families and nonprofits.

There’s plenty of reasons to stay for the rest of the summer in Saugerties and enjoy all the action at Cantine Veterans Memorial Complex, a 127-acre sports and recreational venue with 11 baseball fields, four soccer fields and three basketball courts, along with four pavilions, multiple picnic areas and an Olympic-size ice arena.

In your travels, you’ll notice all the historic and cultural treasures along our scenic byways. If you arrive in the winter, hit the slopes at Belleayre Mountain Ski Center. Spring road-trippers should hop aboard the Catskill Mountain Railroad’s Easter Bunny Express or lace up their boots for an exhilarating hike to Mohonk Preserve.

Planning a fall trip? Take in the kaleidoscope of color while meandering through Saunderskill Farms’ apple orchards and pumpkin patch then wriggle through Headless Horseman Hayrides & Haunted Houses in Ulster Park for the fright of your life. For another kind of thrill, pedal through the mountains at Rail Explorers in Phoenicia.

There’s so much more to see. Plan another visit, along with the 3 million others who will find their way to Ulster County this year!
