Chandler Chamber of Commerce

@terri_kimble

It has already been an exciting 2018 for the Chandler Chamber of Commerce. We presented an extremely successful "Meet the Elected Officials Breakfast" in January at the Chandler Hilton with over 50 elected officials present to talk about their upcoming service.

A new Chandler Chamber Community Foundation Leadership Institute Class (35) kicked off their year with their first issue day here at the Chamber learning about what they will have in store for them in the coming year. Seeing these fresh faces gathered together for a single purpose always invigorates me, as their excitement and energy is contagious!

Women in Leadership featured a new format for business development which was very well received.. With that being said, we will feature a keynote speaker once a quarter and February 20th we are very excited to announce Valley broadcasting legend, Lin Sue Cooney talking about overcoming obstacles and how her love for people lead her to her new journey with Hospice of the Valley.

The first Economic Update Luncheon was in January and we heard from Garrick Taylor with the Arizona Chamber and Ruth Soberanes, GPEC's Director of Trade and Investment spoke on trade in Arizona. Ryan Smith, Communications and Government Relations Director for Phoenix – Mesa Gateway Airport updated us on some exciting developments at the airport. Then City of Chandler is Economic Development Director, Micah Miranda shared news on current and future projects happening in Chandler.

Our "Ask and Expert" series saw a full house with our special engagement speaker, Melissa Forziat of Forziat Events and Marketing, all the way from Seattle, sharing her marketing secrets. Melissa taught us how to market your business like the Olympics seeing as she was on the marketing team for two Olympic games, the Goodwill Games and the Rugby World Cup promotion teams.

So as you can see, with one month in the books, we have hit the ground running! As always we are here to help you and your business grow and succeed. Take a look through our magazine to see how we plan to assist you in February!

Chandler Mayor Jay Tibshraeny

@jaytibshraeny

As remarkable as 2017 was for Chandler, I am even more optimistic for 2018. Last year we witnessed a number of high profile business locates and expansions – most notably Intel's plans for a $7 billion expansion and the location of Roger's international headquarters. These projects, along with growth among Chandler's small and mid-sized employers, will provide thousands of quality jobs in our community. And I am confident we will see continued economic success throughout 2018 and beyond.

A leading economic website believes the same. Chandler was recently named 2018's Best Place to Find a Job in a recent nationwide study from leading personal finance outlet WalletHub.com. WalletHub's analysts compared more than 180 American cities across 26 key indicators of job-market strength. Metrics ranged from job opportunities to employment growth to monthly average starting salary. The new ranking reflects the continued growth of Chandler's economy over the past year, moving up from a ranking of 7th in 2017. This year, Chandler ranked first among all cities surveyed in highest employment growth as well.

There are many reasons for these achievements. Decades-long fiscal policies that have stabilized our local government, strong infrastructure, well-planned transportation corridors and a synergistic business community that feeds off of our creative energy and entrepreneurial spirit.

We have a number of new projects in the pipeline that we'll be announcing in the coming months. Solid, established companies that will add to the diversity of our employment base. Price Road, our Airpark, Uptown Chandler and our City core should all see some dynamic growth. At the same, we look inward as many Chandler companies continue to grow. Firms like Turbo Resources, Execute to Win, Maxim Integrated and Microchip.

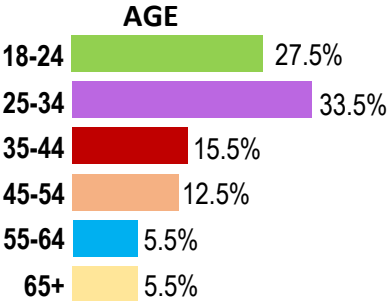

I plan to share some more details on the year ahead at my annual State of the City Address. This year's event will be held Tuesday, February 13, at the City Council Chambers, 88 E. Chicago Street. The evening begins with a light reception at 6 p.m., followed by my remarks at approximately 6:45 p.m. I hope you can join us as we continue to celebrate some fantastic achievements within our business community.

FESTIVAL PARADE

CHANDLER CHAMBER AZ PUBLIC POLICY RECAP

The Chandler Chamber of Commerce is the voice of Chandler business. Join us for our Public Policy Series addressing issues that concern our business community.

The Chandler Chamber welcomed both Adrian Fontes, Maricopa County Recorder, and Dana Delong, Chandler City Clerk, on the 26th of January, 2018 Public Policy series.

Adrian Fontes addressed the early voter registration method of mail elections and up-to-date, on-site electronic voting technology (ballot on demand) which some feel would make voting easier. Fontes mentioned that Chandler Unified School District had the best turnout with 29% of voters, which was the highest for ballot by mail. He assured voters that the new ballot on demand is more secure. For example, the technology verifies ID and on-hand mailed ballot envelope, which is then overseen by a staff member for assistance. More information regarding voter registration can be found on the Maricopa County website.

Fontes also mentioned a new project for Maricopa County, which targets and expedites the government process of reaching a development goal. The project would serve the citizenry and increase incentive for a county outreach, which would trickle a return of investment.

Chandler City Clerk Dana Delong also spoke at the Public Policy event. She began by explaining the three main functions, or branches, of the Clerk's office, which include The Legislative Office, Records Division, and Elections Division.

Following this, she detailed how the election process works here in Chandler, as well as the Clerk's relationship to greater Maricopa County. She highlighted their role of interaction and verification of candidates to ensure the voters of a fair, transparent, and legal election process. She also apprised the Chamber of the often intricate process of becoming a candidate, the election process itself, and the monetary restrictions that accompany candidacy and ballot issues.

Ms. Delong provided the attendees with valuable information regarding the process of candidate selection and approval. She also highlighted the Clerk's responsibilities in ensuring a fair and transparent election such as the upcoming Chandler Mayoral and City Council elections on August 28th of this year.

1. A year from now celebrating what a great year 2018 has been for you in this role, what did you achieve?
I will have doubled my business, have three interns working with me, and have the ability to step away for short periods of time.
2. What are two important questions you ask your clients and why?
What are you most passionate about and what makes you unique?
3. What would you put in your emergency “Go-Bag”?
Water, fire starter, emergency blanket, meal replacement bars, rope/cordage, knife, and a long book.
4. How do you choose to make a “phone call” rather than a text?
On my i-phone I have twenty apps for communication and my clients use varied combinations of all of them. Placing an actual – voice only – phone call is very rare. I communicate in the method that my clients prefer and some of them still like the traditional phone call; although it is only around 5%.
5. What is your favorite and least favorite word?
My favorite word is solace because it covers such a broad definition of what we all strive for. My least favorite word is moist... it does not evoke pretty images in my mind and I am a very visual person.
6. Compare your life to a car – what type car are you and why.
Jeep Rubicon – small but mighty; able to take the top off and party or dig in and climb a mountain.
7. What era do you wish you would have lived in.
The roaring 20’s – those ladies knew how to have a good time and kick butt!
8. What music do you listen to in your car?
Everything from Octane to the Top 20. Music is an artistic expression of someone’s interpretation of life, enjoy it!
