Chandler Chamber of Commerce

@terri_kimble

Summer is upon us and with that many of our residents are off to cooler places! Our tourism is not at the high levels our businesses see in the winter when everyone wants to escape the snow. So what that means for our local business is a decrease in their customers across the board.

Here are some ways we can combat a sluggish season for our small business owners. It is important to generate off season excitement. Use what you have. If you have current customers that are regulars, ask if they are willing to do a testimonial for you, then push that out through inexpensive marketing venues like social media. Do a facebook live at your business and show off new products, services or areas of your brick and mortar that might be unique. The Chamber has recently helped several new businesses get off the ground like Smokin' Fins, Meridium and Lunchbox Wax. Some of these facebook lives got over 20,000 views! People love to see "first look" promotions.

Don't forget who your friends are. People do business and refer other businesses with others that they know, like and trust. Make connections that will help spread your word and a fabulous way to accomplish that is to attend Chamber events. Please click here and take a look at the many options the Chandler Chamber has to offer to help you grow your business. Seek out a Chamber Ambassador—they love to connect people help promote business.

Another way to gain exposure is to co-op advertise with other businesses that share your demographic. Swap vouchers or coupons to each other's newsletters or social media pushes. Build your email database all year round. Get a group of like-minded operators together to brainstorm content ideas, and then create and share each other's content with all of your online communities.

We are full of ideas for you to promote your business including many Chamber website marketing opportunities.

Commentary from Mayor Jay Tibshraeny

@jaytibshraeny

In early May, the City of Chandler was recognized as a 2017 Healthy Arizona Worksite Gold Award recipient for excellence in worksite wellness. Our employees are committed to health and fitness. And, it relates well to our theme for this year's budget: "Chandler is Healthy and Fiscally Fit."

On May 25, the City Council tentatively adopted the 2017/2018 Fiscal Year Budget and the 2018/2027 Capital Improvement Plan. Final adoption is set for June 8, with adoption of the annual property tax levy on June 22.

The budget, at $934.5 million represents a 3.8 decrease from last year; and a proposed property tax levy reduction of two-cents, down to $1.14 per $100 of assessed valuation. Yes, we still have some challenges that include an unstable global economic environment as well as an underfunded state public safety retirement system. But at the same time, I remain encouraged that our community continues to move in a good direction.

Chandler's solid economic foundation is the product of more than two decades of sound financial planning. Policies that have been strictly adhered to by those you have entrusted with your hard-earned tax dollars. I want to thank my fellow Councilmembers who fully understand the impacts of this strategy, and have worked tirelessly on this budget to ensure we remain fiscally strong.

The 2017/18 budget is a solid one, and we again are able to fund road projects, build parks and maintain basic services and infrastructure.

At the same time, we celebrated many successes over this past year (the fiscal year runs July 1 through June 30). We renovated and upgraded several parks, and we continue to construct and widen roads in south Chandler, aggressively maintain and improve others, and have undertaken some critical new utility projects.

We welcomed many new businesses to Chandler including Waymo's (formerly Google) autonomous vehicle testing site in west Chandler. Rogers announced it will move its headquarters to Chandler this year and Intel announced a $7 billion expansion at its Ocotillo campus, generating several thousand jobs. The business community continues to find Chandler as an attractive place to locate and grow.

Thanks to our management team and budget staff for their dedicated work to prepare a prudent, sensible plan. This financial roadmap is the product of a long and transparent process -- and many hours of work on the part of our City staff, the City Council, and you, the residents of Chandler.

Thanks to my fellow City Councilmembers. They remain, as do I, committed to an unparalleled quality of life for our City and residents. We live in a tremendous community. One that is Healthy and Fiscally Fit!

How did you get started in this business?

My previous employer (Tom Balding Bits & Spurs) encouraged me to grow and seek opportunities in the Graphic Design field. Upon relocating to Chandler for my husband's career, I decided it was a perfect opportunity for me to start my own business. Thus, DBarkan Designs LLC was born.

Share one financial strategy that made your company more successful this year.

Working from home – conducting meetings at local coffee shops – has allowed me to keep my overhead low and offer competitive rates to me growing clientele. It is a financial win for my business and my clients.

Who do look up to or admire and why?

To choose just one person, I again return to my previous employer (Tom Balding). Through working with him so closely I learned the true value of the people you work with, to keep an open mind to their struggles and success, and to support them as they achieve a more fulfilling life. What he has accomplished in his life and what he has provided for his family and employees is truly an amazing statement of the man he is.

What have been your most valued professional experiences?

I must answer this in two parts. First the many leadership programs I have been a part of from the age of eight until present day. You cannot stop learning and growing as a leader in your family, with your friends, and in your community. Secondly as a Graphic Designer Adobe has been a key in continued training and education. Their support to the creative community is all encompassing – from Adobe Max conference to daily tutorials – they keep my design on the edge of new trends and technology.

What are your hobbies?

Reading, painting, anything outdoors (hiking, biking, running, and playing), crafting, trying new and exciting food, and traveling.

If you could have dinner with any 3 people, living or dead, who would it be and why?

There is never a day that goes by that I don't wish to see my sweet mother again. Sitting down to a meal with my mother and Audrey Hepburn would be a true treat. The many staggering hurdles Audrey Hepburn overcame and kept her positive can-do attitude should be inspiration to everyone. I would love to learn how she continued to keep her chin up, smile bright, and constant drive to success ever-present through so many dark and crushing life experiences.

What are your top 3 favorite books/movies and why?

1) Jane Austin's 'Pride and prejudice' (book) – It shows you to look inside people, not be so superficial, and to stand up for what you believe.

2) John C Maxwell's 'The 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership' (book) – In one on my leadership programs we walked through this book (immersing ourselves in each law) over the course of a year. It opened my eyes to the many forms leadership takes, the integral part it plays in our daily human interaction, and how to be a better me every day I am privileged to be alive.

3) 'P.S. I love you' (movie) – Sometimes you need a solid chick-flick to make you feel alive. This one delivers a wide range of emotions and leaves you with the warm fuzzies that any truly great chick-flick should.

Sports Fan? Do you play or are you in the stands only?

I am not an organized sports fan. I will cheer on my friend's teams with them though! I am always down for a friendly game – please note this does not mean I am any good at the game of your choice... but I will give it my best shot!

Share your favorite networking tip.

Go into every networking event with the mindset of 'how can I help someone else succeed today.' As you make those connections, offer assistance, and give others a step up they will see the value you offer and return the favor. When you enter a networking event with the mindset of 'what can I walk out of here with' you have failed before you walk in the room.

Fireworks Safety and Facts

Under Arizona law, the sale of permissible consumer fireworks is allowed from May 20 through July 6 and from December 10 through January 3. The use of permissible consumer fireworks is allowed June 24 through July 6 and from December 24 through January 3 on private property, with the permission of the property owner. Chandler prohibits the use of permissible consumer fireworks on any public property, including City-owned or managed land, buildings and facilities. This includes public parks, public school facilities, public retention basins, and public roads and streets within Chandler City limits. If you do decide to purchase and use fireworks in Chandler, it's important that you know the different rules for each of the three types: display, consumer and novelty fireworks. According to Chandler Fire, Health & Medical Department officials, display fireworks shoot into or through the air and may also detonate. These include the aerial devices that you typically see at large public Independence Day events. They are not legal to sell to consumers, and are not legal to use at any time in Chandler without a special event permit. Similar fireworks, including those that contain a higher percentage of black powder, such as M-80's, firecrackers, Roman candles, bottle rockets, etc., are also illegal.
