Anglin Reichmann Armstrong ‘Serve Day’ Connects Volunteers With Causes in Huntsville and Pensacola, Fla.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA., November 5, 2019 — To celebrate volunteerism with their professionals and give back to the community, Anglin Reichmann Armstrong hosted a ‘Serve Day’ on October 18. The event involved more than 50 professionals from the firm’s Huntsville and Pensacola, Fla., offices. Service activities focused on youth, seniors, animal welfare and nutrition.

Anglin employees, organized in small groups, worked on six different Serve Day projects for four organizations in Huntsville. Anglin’s Pensacola team added a fifth organization and seventh project for Serve Day at the Pensacola Humane Society where they spent time tending to shelter cats, created chewable dog toys and made dog treats.

Activities in Huntsville included projects and grocery deliveries for aging seniors, landscaping and yard cleanup for shelter pets, a shift at a hydroponic garden that provides fresh veggies for families, and spruce-ups at a youth center. Organizations and teams included the following:

CASA – Care and Assurance for the Aging

Yard Work Team – Chris Cook, Capt.
Grocery/Personal Care Products Delivery Team – Maggie Douglas, Capt.
Wheelchair Ramp Assembly Team – Leah Lawrence, Capt.

Greater Huntsville Humane Society

Yard Crew and Landscaping Team – Lainey Davis, Capt.

Manna House

Hydroponic Garden Care and Planting Team – Caroline Wasson, Capt.

Boys & Girls Clubs of North Alabama

Fall Festival Cleanup Team – Raven Howlet, Capt.

Pensacola Humane Society

Treats, Toys and TLC Team – Andrew Turner, Capt.
