About the Emergency Operations Center

The Escambia County Emergency Operations Center is a facility designed to serve as a local or regional support center. The EOC, when activated, is a central location where representatives of local government and private sector agencies convene during disaster situations to make decisions, set priorities, and coordinate resources for response and recovery. The Escambia County EOC was built to withstand 200 mph winds and is equipped with a generator sized to power all loads during an emergency.
