WSRE PBS will host Amazing Kids Day on June 1 for amazing kids with autism

PENSACOLA, Fla., May 6, 2024 (Updated May 28, 2024) — WSRE PBS will host Pensacola's second annual Amazing Kids Day for families affected by autism on Saturday, June 1, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. in the Jean & Paul Amos Performance Studio at Pensacola State College.

Amazing Kids Day is a free, sensory-friendly event for children with special needs to explore fun, educational activities. At the same time, parents and caregivers can learn about some of the local family resources available to them.

The following organizations have signed up to take part with educational resources and fun activities designed for kids with autism: The Arc Gateway, Autism Pensacola, Ballet Pensacola, Be the Miracle, BeYOUtiful Nutrition, Canine Companions, Western Panhandle Early Steps, Epilepsy Alliance Florida, Escambia Westgate School, Florida Advanced Technological Education (FLATE), Life Horse, Pensacola Little Theatre, Pensacola Opera, Pensacola Symphony Orchestra, Rep. Michelle Salzman, Simply Healthcare, and West Florida Public Libraries. Plus, WSRE PBS will offer a green screen TV studio activity and computer stations for exploring PBS KIDS and PBS KIDS for Parents online.

Amazing Kids Day is sponsored in part by Aaron Erskine, The Hive Foundation of Innisfree Hotels, Jacque Falzone, Margie and Alan Moore, Simply Healthcare, Tonya and Paul Cope, and Linda and Byron Bauer.

The event will accommodate a limited number of children, so registration is requested. Event information and online registration can be found at wsre.org/education.
