

THIRD FLOOR THEATER

NARI MINNESOTA | COTY AWARDS
RESIDENTIAL INTERIOR $100,000 TO $250,000

OVERVIEW:

The third floor home theater created a place for entertainment and beautiful design. Taking inspiration from dark colors and impactful shapes. We wanted to create a space you could enjoy no matter what you are watching and experience a true theater feel at home.

CLIENT NEEDS:

The homeowners requests were focused on the function of the space through the audio visual experience. With this in mind we focused on creating a space that you felt the experience of watching a movie, through multi level seating and sound absorption throughout the space. The color palette was chosen to create a dramatic affect while also working with any color lighting. While the space was for watching on the big screen, there also needed to be storage for snacks and drinks.

AESTHETICS:

- Dark contrast trim
- Quartz countertops
- Starry ceiling
- Multi-color LEDs
- Recessed wall lighting

INNOVATION & CRAFTSMANSHIP:

The uneven roofline was the first obstacle, the team used an optical illusion to even out the soffits without matching the exact angle. Maximizing screen size was the second priority, working with the tiered seating to allow for clear sightlines to the large screen while also maintaining a comfortable layout. The vertical recessed wall lighting channels are carefully inlaid in the drywall work for a seamless look. Various technical aspects of the room were hidden behind acoustic panels and within soffits like the surround sound system.

FUNCTIONALITY:

The space previously had no function, the builder utilized attic space to create a third floor bonus area. The space was transformed to create a home theater with a walk-up bar and extensive audio visual set up. Creating 3-tiers of seating allows for maximum capacity in the theater. Hidden behind the acoustic panels are a series of speakers as well as audio rack storage. Soffits were utilized to create a place for starry ceiling as well as hide the uneven roofline soffits.
