Dear January 2017 ACPC Meeting Attendees:

Thank you for attending the ACPC's Winter Meeting in Orlando, FL. We are excited to present what promises to be another excellent program.

First, as many of you know, it's been a difficult start to the year with the loss of Carl Horton, former Vice President and Chief IP Counsel for GE, ACPC Vice President, and beloved husband and father. We will honor Carl with a brief presentation before the program begins on Monday morning.

Our Professional Program should once again prove very educational with presentations on The Internet of Things, Managing Multi-Jurisdictional Issues, the Impact of Brexit on Patent Strategies and IP Tax Strategies. Of course, we will also have three different presentations from our members sharing benchmark information on their "IP Operations."

We are honored to also hear from Chief Judge Sharon Prost of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, as well as Michelle K. Lee. We thank them and all of our wonderful speakers for taking the time to address our group.

Tim Douros has arranged the Monday golf tournament at Disney's Palm Golf Course. We are also excited about the great interest in our first Benchmarking Sessions, available on Tuesday afternoon from 2-4pm. If you did not sign up for one with your registration, you're still welcome to join!

Our meetings provide an opportunity for you to meet and get to know your peers. It is probably our most important member benefit. Please keep a look out for new ACPC Members who will be wearing red ribbons.

As always, please don't hesitate to reach out to me or any member of ACPC's Executive Committee with your thoughts and ideas about future programs.

I look forward to enjoying our Winter Meeting with you!

Warm Regards,

Dennis Skarvan
President

Speaker Information for Wednesday, February 1 (in order of appearance)

Michelle K. Lee, *Director of the USPTO

As the Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), Michelle K. Lee provides leadership and oversight to one of the largest intellectual property offices in the world, with over 12,000 employees and an annual budget of over $3 billion. Ms. Lee also serves as the principal advisor to the President, through the Secretary of Commerce, on domestic and international intellectual property policy matters. Ms. Lee is the first woman to serve as Director of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office in the country's history. Prior to public service, Ms. Lee has spent most of her professional career advising some of the country's most innovative companies on technical, legal, and business matters. She was Deputy General Counsel for Google and the company's first Head of Patents and Patent Strategy. She joined the company when it was relatively young, and was responsible for formulating and implementing its patent strategy for all of its products and services worldwide. She also served as a partner at the Silicon Valley-based law firm of Fenwick & West LLP, where she advised a wide range of high-technology clients from startups to Fortune 100 companies intellectual property, licensing, litigation and corporate matters. Before her career as a legal advisor to technology companies, Ms. Lee worked as a computer scientist at the M.I.T. Artificial Intelligence Laboratory and Hewlett-Packard Research Laboratories. Ms. Lee worked in the federal judiciary as a law clerk on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit for Judge Paul R. Michel and District Court for the Northern California for Judge Vaughn R. Walker. She holds a B.S. and M.S. in electrical engineering and computer science from M.I.T., as well as a J.D. from Stanford Law School. Ms. Lee has been recognized by numerous organizations for her work including by Politico Magazine as one of the "Top 50 Most Influential Visionaries in American Public Policy" in 2015, by Washingtonian Magazine as a "Tech Titan" in 2015, and by the San Francisco Business Times and San Jose Business Journal as the Best Bay Area IP Lawyer in 2012 and one of the top 100 most influential women in the Silicon Valley in 2013.

Edward Nodder, *Bristows

Edward was until 2016 the long-serving head of Patent Litigation and has specialised in intellectual property, especially patent litigation, for over 35 years. He has been responsible for more than 100 patent cases, including landmark UK decisions such as 3M v. Rennicks (validity and infringement, stay of injunction and damages), 3M v. Plastus Kreativ (cross-border injunctions), 3M v. Nippon Carbide (stay pending EPO opposition), Unilin v. B&Q (entitlement to priority, amendment, res judicata and EPO) and Servier v. Apotex (enquiry as to damages under cross-undertaking). Beyond the UK, Edward has taken a particular interest in the development of the Unitary Patent and the Unified Patent Court (UPC). He has had the opportunity to do so through his service on the Board and Advisory Board of the European Lawyers Association (EPLAW). EPLAW has been very closely involved with the preparation of the legislation and the rules of procedure of the UPC and Edward has given presentations on the rules to all the leading European Patent Judges at the Venice Conferences organised jointly by EPLAW and the EPO. His work with the European Patent judiciary has included participation in "Mock Trials" conducted before these Patents Judges and already using the law and rules of the UPC. This has been a unique experience making Edward ideally qualified to advise clients on UPC issues when they arise. He has further honed his UPC skills sitting as a "Judge" in the first real-time mock trials of UPC cases which Bristows has been conducting in the expectation that the UPC will commence operation in a few years despite the uncertainty of "Brexit".

William Krovatin, *SVP and Assistant General Counsel – Merck

Bill Krovatin is a Senior Vice President and Assistant General Counsel at Merck & Co., Inc. and is responsible for IP matters at Merck including patents, trademarks, copyrights and IP litigation. Bill joined Merck in 1993 as an attorney in the IP litigation group. He has held various positions of increasing responsibility in the Legal Department before assuming his present position in January 2014. Prior to joining Merck, Bill was an attorney at Hoffmann- La Roche and at Morgan & Finnegan. Bill has BS in Biology from MIT and a JD from Rutgers Law School. He is admitted to practice in New York, New Jersey and the USPTO. Bill lives in New Jersey with his wife and two of their three children, an avid Mets fan and an active member of the Glen Ridge Volunteer Ambulance Squad.
