

FICA Tip Credit

What is the FICA Tip Credit program—and how can it help your members?

The FICA Tip Credit program offers a unique advantage for those in the food and beverage sector. If your members operate a bar or restaurant, the eligibility criteria is straightforward.

Why Adesso?

We specialize in restaurants.

We understand the unique financial needs of the food and beverage sector.

We have the right people in place.

Adesso's team of financial specialists, CPAs, and legal experts are already in place and are well-versed in tax credit programs.

We're an extension of your marketing team.

Our Partner Management team provides your association with the marketing tools and support to succeed.

Helping your members helps your association.

Earn valuable non-dues revenue for your association when your members become our clients.

Who is eligible?

Tip-Driven Business

The services offered by the business, like serving or delivering food, should typically involve receiving tips from customers.

Tips Documented as Wages

These tips should have been documented as wages, and the appropriate FICA taxes should have been paid on them.

How can your members ensure they're taking advantage of this credit?

Business owners should check for Form 8846 when working on their business tax return. If they don't see it, they might be missing out on valuable tax savings!
