LOBBY LEVEL

G. Michael Gehret

President, Association of California
Symphony Orchestras

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Association of California Symphony Orchestras, I welcome you to the 18th Annual Conference.

ACSO's Conference is, for many of our orchestra staff, board members and volunteers, the only chance during the year to personally meet and share ideas with one another. ACSO places great importance upon offering the orchestra community this opportunity.

"Building Relationships That Work" is an apt theme for the Conference and the business we are in.
Indeed, all that we do in the management of an orchestra depends on the strength of the relationships between and among the various constituencies involved.

My thanks to the San Diego Symphony for hosting the Conference this year, to the Conference Committee, particularly Richard Bass, Conference Chairman and Kathryn Rohlf, Conference Coordinator. Thanks are due also to the many delegates, panelists and guest speakers for their participation.

My hope is that you will learn from and enjoy Conference 1986! If you have never before attended an ACSO Conference — a special welcome.

I look forward to meeting as many of you as possible over the next few days.

EMANUIL SHEYNKMAN

MASTER OF THE MANDOLIN • MASTER OF THE BALALAIKA

UTAH SYMPHONY - "The real star of the show was balalaika soloist, Emanuel Sheynkman, whose refined artistry made a deeper impression than one might have expected given the usual associations that instrument enjoys in this part of the world. His virtuosity compels in a way one associates with the finest classical artists."

William Goodfellow, Denver News

SACRAMENTO SYMPHONY - "Sheynkman played as (Hummel, Concerto for Mandolin) brilliant passages with notable fluidity and made the melodies sing. When Sheynkman came back in the second half to play some Russian pieces with the balalaika, these particular qualities were doubly welcome. His arrangements for orchestra were excellent and the music most appealing ball of charm and beautifully scored."
