

In-Home Aide Newsletter- January 2025 Posttest ANSWERS
Home Safety

1. Ensuring client safety is a critical responsibility assigned to an In-home aide.

True

2. Safety hazards can exist in many areas of the client's home and the hazards may increase the risk of client falls and other injuries.

True

3. A client's plan of care should have safety measures listed.

True

4. Safety measures include being aware of distractions that can lead to safety hazards or client neglect.

True

5. There are community resources that may be able to help clients with safety measures.

True

6. Safety measures do not include falls prevention measures.

False

7. Portable heaters are a potential safety hazard if not used properly.

True

8. Safety is important for everyone, but the need for a comprehensive safety plan is particularly important for a person living with Alzheimer's as the disease progresses.

True

9. There are no safety hazards associated with using chemical household cleaners.

False

10. Infection control is a part of a home safety plan.

True