

In-Home Aide Newsletter- March 2025 Posttest

ANSWERS

Dementia

1. Dementia describes a wide number of symptoms of several underlying diseases and brain disorders.

True

2. Dementia is not a normal part of aging and dementia is not a single disease.

True

3. The type of dementia predicts the pattern of change for each person.

True

4. Dementia is not sudden; it is usually progressive and develops over time.

True

5. There are medical and other reasons that could cause confusion in a person.

True

6. All Dementia is Alzheimer's Disease.

False

7. When approaching a client, especially a client with Alzheimer's or other dementia, physical approach is especially important.

True

8. A person with dementia may be unable to express his or her needs because of cognitive losses.

True

9. Language abilities are never affected with Dementia.

False

10. Individuals living with Alzheimer's disease and other dementias are at increased risk for injury or harm in certain areas of the home.

True