About NAPHSIS

The National Association for Public Health Statistics and Information Systems (NAPHSIS) is a national nonprofit organization established in 1933. It serves as a crucial advocate for vital records and public health statistics offices across the United States. Comprising over 500 public health professionals from each state, five territories, New York City, and the District of Columbia, NAPHSIS provides national advocacy, technical assistance, training, educational programming, and valuable resources to support and promote its membership.

VISION

A healthier and more secure world through vital records.

MISSION

To serve the vital records community by providing national leadership to advance public health and protect individual identity.

WHY BECOME AN INDUSTRY PARTNER?

At NAPHSIS, we believe partnerships drive meaningful progress. Collaboration furthers our mission and enhances our ability to serve jurisdictional members effectively. We value the unique role industry partners play in advancing public health.

As an industry partner, your organization will join vital records industry leaders committed to serving the public through timely, accurate data collection. These records establish identity and provide essential data for public health programs. Together, we can make a lasting impact on health outcomes.
