CACI Day at the Capitol

By Tamara Mohamed, Aurora Chamber of Commerce, Director of Community Relations

On March 3, members of the Government Affairs committee attended Colorado Association of Commerce and Industry (CACI) Day at the Capitol. The event was hosted by President of the US Chamber John Gonzales.

The day began with a panel of Chamber Executives, including President and CEO of the Aurora Chamber Kevin Hougen. There were inquiries about the Chambers' positions on bills currently in legislature, as well as questions directed to each of the Chambers represented. Throughout the day, attendees heard updates about Construction Defects and Oil and Gas legislation, visited the Gallery of the House or Senate, and took a tour of the Capitol.

As Colorado's State Chamber of Commerce, CACI champions a healthy business climate by maintaining and improving the cost of doing business; advocating for a pro-business state government; increasing the quantity of educated, skilled workers; and strengthening Colorado's critical infrastructure (roads, water, telecommunications and energy). ■

"If I had a million dollars"...

Were you thinking of the song, or the phrase from Austin Powers (you just put your pinky finger next to your mouth and said the phrase, didn't you? It's ok... I just did, too), or just buying a lotto ticket - hoping to win a million dollars?

What would you do with a million dollars? Would you buy a new car, a new house, pay off some debt, do some well-deserved travel? Would you give it to charity, start a foundation, or something else?

Every day we make choices about our money; where we spend it, with whom, on whom, where we keep it, etc. It's an important part of our culture and our infrastructure. You begin to appreciate the value and the strength of what it can do (or not do), and we have to make tough choices as it is a limited resource.

I've done some daydreaming myself (since I don't have a million dollars); and I think I would break the million into thirds. One third I would spend (with my family), one third I would save for the future, and the last third - donate to a worthy cause.

In one of my favorite movies, It's a Wonderful Life, George Bailey works for a local Savings and Loan, dreams of amazing travel adventures and making a big impact on the world. Yet despite his efforts and best intentions to leave, he seems trapped in Bedford Falls.

Although George misses out on many opportunities, he seems to form strong bonds and friendships within his community. He is tested by Clarence (his guardian angel), who gives him the gift of seeing what the world would be like without him. Ultimately... (Spoiler alert; if you haven't seen this movie - it's been out for 70 years now) he realizes that money is not everything and that family, friends, and community are. My favorite scene is when his brother Harry (the returning war hero) proposes a toast to his big brother George (his home filled with practically the whole town) and declares him the richest man in Bedford Falls.

People want to live/work and be part of a community that is growing and doing the right things... It gives us pride and we have a lot to be proud of in our community. I know that Kevin Hougen (President/CEO of The Chamber) and his incredible staff are dedicated and working hard to make our community a better place for us all. To all of our Chamber members; thank you - you are truly valued and appreciated. Thank you for your dedication and community service/involvement to make this a better place.

I feel grateful when I think about the last 16 years that I've been involved with The Chamber and slightly saddened at how quickly this last year, as Chairman, went by. I think about the diverse groups of people I have met - at the different Chamber events and committees, and the wonderful relationships formed as a result. It has been an honor and a privilege serving as Chairman and I will cherish it always. I will still continue to be involved with the Chamber - just in different roles. I'm excited for our incoming Chairman, Ryan Simpson, and look forward to his leadership and the qualities he will bring to the table. Rest assured, The Chamber is in good hands with Ryan.

So, if I had a million dollars... I would donate one third to the Chamber, as it is a very worthy cause.

Elvis was “in the building” for The Chamber

By Mitzi Schindler, Aurora Chamber of Commerce, Communications Director

Elvis Presley's Taking Care of Business was the theme for The Aurora Chamber's 61st Annual Awards Dinner on March 25. The annual event celebrates and honors outstanding leaders in the community, serves as a platform for the Chamber Board changing of the guard, and offers Chamber members an experience to be remembered!

Many of the attendees arrived as their “best Elvis,” and the evening began with a silent auction, and cocktails and themed appetizers, including fried pickles and bologna sliders.

To begin the formal part of the evening, outgoing Chair of the Board Jason Altshuler, Director of Operations for Westerra Credit Union, introduced incoming Chair of the Board Ryan Simpson, Chief Operating Officer at The Medical Center of Aurora, HealthONE.

Simpson then welcomed new Board members and thanked outgoing Board members who had completed their terms.

Following the Leadership Aurora Class of 2015-16:

Healthcare and Military Days

On February 18, the Leadership Aurora Class explored some of the World-Class Healthcare in Aurora.

Beginning the day at Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital, Leadership Aurora Health Care Day provided a unique opportunity for class participants and executives from the Medical Center of Aurora, Spaulding, and the University of Colorado Hospital to come together for in-depth dialogue about healthcare issues pertinent to Aurora and the State of Colorado.

Jeff Thompson, vice president of Government and Corporate Relations for University of Colorado Health talked about the politics of healthcare, including the bill in the legislature to convert the hospital provider fee to an enterprise, in order to free up millions of dollars in the State budget for spending priorities, such as capital construction and education.

The Class then divided into groups to tour The Medical Center of Aurora and the University of Colorado Hospital.

For lunch back at Spaulding, the class was given a disability challenge, during which they experienced what it would be like to be disabled as a result of a stroke, traumatic brain or spine injury, or other accidents.

The rest of the afternoon included presentations about Clinical Ethics, Cardiac Alert, and information about the 911 system, and a "hands-only" CPR interactive demonstration by the Dutch-based Falck Corporation of America. Falck was recently awarded the five year contract for private ambulance transportation service for the City of Aurora.

Health Care Day provided

class participants with information about, as well as experiences within Aurora's World-Class Healthcare community.

The LA Class of 2015-2016 thanks the World-Class Leadership board members who worked on the committee to make this day possible: David Barber; Denise Denton; Antoinette Dow; Jennifer Evans; Gigi de Gala; Donna Greeley; Laura Noe; and Erika Matich.

Military Day at Buckley AFB on March 17 went "behind the fence."

The Leadership Aurora Class of 2015-2016 learned firsthand the importance of security at Buckley AFB. Prior to the Leadership Aurora Military session in March, class members were required to submit individual Entry Access List (EAL) forms, in order to be allowed onto the base.

Once on the base, the class was greeted at the 460th Space Wing by Base Commander Colonel John Wagner, and Leadership Aurora Board member and Buckley Community Support Coordinator Christina Grooms.

Col. Wagner shared the history of the base, and also talked about the importance of building a strong relationship with the community of Aurora. Col. Floyd Dunston then gave an overview of the Air National Guard and the Air Force, including the relationships between the various branches of the military and the relationship between Buckley and NORAD.

Next up, the class boarded a bus for the Hush

House - home of the F16 jet engine test site - where they experienced the incredible heat and power of the F16 engine. Back onto the bus, the class was given a windshield tour of the base, illustrating that Buckley AFB is a city unto itself.

After a tasty Cajun lunch prepared by the base kitchen staff, it was back onto the bus, heading to the radomes, commonly referred to as the "golf balls." It was a first-time opportunity for a Leadership Class to go inside the structures and see the massive satellite dishes. However, curiosity was not easily satisfied, as the response to many of the questions asked was a polite and firm "we are unable to answer due to security reasons."

The group ended the day at the Army Aviation Support Facility, where they toured the helicopter hanger. The class boarded and explored the inside of Chinooks and and Blackhawks, and even found a great photo opportunity!

We learned about Buckley's mission to provide defense for the country, and we would like to extend a sincere thank you to all of the men and women at Buckley for their time, dedication, and service. Thanks also to the Leadership Aurora board members serving on the Military Day committee: Christina Grooms; Denise Dentin, Gary Wheat, Christy Jones, Chief Mike Garcia; David Barber; and Marissa Banker.

Woolley's Classic Suites teams with LA for 7/20 Memorial event

The Aurora Chamber and the Leadership Aurora (LA) Class of 2015-16 would like to extend a sincere THANK YOU to the Woolley's Classic Suites - Denver Airport for their hospitality and generosity.

The Class has been working with the 7/20 Memorial Foundation raising funds for a Memorial dedicated to the victims of the Aurora Theater Shooting on July 20, 2012. They also wanted to bring together the victims' families and community leaders together for a social event.

Woolley's Classic Suites - Denver Airport stepped up and did something amazing! When Woolley's Director of Sales Shaneal Wilson was contacted, she offered an incredible space and food - for the event. Unfortunately, due to poor weather conditions the event was cancelled, but despite the weather, many new friends were made, and came together on an incredibly meaningful project, raising more than double the funds the class had set as their goal. When the project first began, a goal was set of raising $5,000.00 dollars. When the auction closed on Saturday $5,365.00 was raised on auction items, and $6,391.00 on the Foundation's FundRazr site, for a total of $11,756.00 dollars!

"The Woolley's organization is truly community-minded and understands the value of giving back. We are very thankful and appreciative of their generosity."

them were seven private-sector businesses wanting to sell their products and discuss potential partnership opportunities with Colorado.

"The reason for the delegation was three-fold," says Karlyn Shorb, CEO of Aurora Sister Cities International, "To revitalize Aurora's sister city relationship with Seongnam City, Republic of Korea; to spark future educational and cultural exchange opportunities; and to pair Colorado and Korean companies for mutually beneficial trade and partnership opportunities."

AutoPros plants seeds for education

Renee' Leon, co-owner of AutoPros, LLC, wanted to create a program to inform new/young drivers of the various costs involved in owning a car and how to best protect their investment. As a class member of Leadership Aurora 2015-2016, she discussed the idea with Eric Ward from Pickens Technical College and Charles Dukes with Aurora Public Schools. Within 5 minutes of the first meeting with Pickens Tech Assistant Director Michael Klouser, the seedling idea grew into "Go Kart Academy!"

With support from local industry partners Advance Auto Parts, Snap On, AutoPros, and Aurora Schools Federal Credit Union, Pickens instructors hosted seventeen 9th and 10th grade students from Vista Peak High School for a full week of learning the various components that make a vehicle run. A big part of the learning happened as they assembled their own team go

Mary Beth Sharp retires from The Chamber

With mixed emotions, the Aurora Chamber of Commerce staff – and members – are saying goodbye to Mary Beth Sharp, as she retires at the end of May 2016.

Mary Beth has been the Director of Members Services for The Chamber, overseeing Member Retention, the Ambassador Team, Partners in Business, Transportation Committee, and the Chamber's Annual Silent Auction! So, this issue of the Impact Newsletter is the last time Mary Beth's name will be printed in the "Staff Listing," but we certainly hope to see her at Chamber events – as an emeritus member.

In her 15 years at The Chamber, Mary Beth has made an irreplaceable impression, and has worn many hats both as a member of The Chamber staff and as a volunteer in the community. She has sat on numerous Boards representing The Chamber, and dedicates much of her spare time volunteering for activities and programs with her Church. She has been an incredible asset to The Chamber, and her "big 'tiny' shoes" will be difficult to fill – but we are so happy that she and husband John will have much-expanded opportunities to travel, golf, and be further involved in their volunteer activities.

It has been an honor and a delight to work with her – and to experience all of her talents, knowledge, and blessings. Cheers to you Mary Beth, we wish you all the best!!
