

CELEBRATE GRANGE MONTH

by Philip J Vonada

National Grange Communications Director

April is the annual celebration and recognition of Grange Month, a time to celebrate the legacy, spirit, and mission of the Grange and all it stands for. As Granges across the country open their doors for spring, this is a powerful opportunity for members and local Granges to step forward and make their presence felt in meaningful, positive ways.

The Grange has always been rooted in community by supporting neighbors, advancing agricultural and rural interests, and advocating for policies that lift up people all across the country. It's a natural fit that Grange Month is our time to not only honor that tradition but to amplify it.

We encourage every Community, Pomona, State, and Junior Grange, as well as Grange members of all levels, to take part by increasing visibility and activity in their towns and regions. Whether through hands-on service projects, fun and festive local events, or impactful legislative outreach, this is the moment to show the world the Grange spirit in action.

This year, National Grange President Christine Hamp has issued a special Grange Month Challenge, inviting all members to step up and creatively showcase the impact of their Granges. The challenge is simple:

1. Bring a friend to the Grange
2. Start (or continue) a community project and share it on social media with #Grange Month
3. Attend a local government meeting and speak on issues
4. Connect your Grange to Project Sustenance

To help bring even more energy and visibility to Grange Month, we're also excited to kick off Grange Spirit Week, running April 13-19.

This themed week is a fun, simple, and visible way to engage members of all ages and connect from coast to coast. Each day will feature a different theme, like "Why I Joined Wednesday" where you can share your personal connection to the Grange, to "Grange Future Day" where you can envision what the Grange might look like for the next generation and beyond. Share your photos on social media with the

REACH RURAL SURGICAL SENIORS

Since 2023, the National Grange has been a proud advocate for the Reaching Rural Surgical Seniors (RRSS) program, a vital initiative designed to help individuals, regardless of age, better prepare for surgery by knowing what questions to ask, and make informed decisions about their future care.

While the grant supporting this program is set to conclude in June, the valuable resources at seniorsurgeryguides.com will remain active. We strongly encourage Granges nationwide to continue championing and promoting this important program in their communities.

Grange Month events present an excellent opportunity to raise awareness about the RRSS program. The National Grange has a limited supply of additional 8-page full-color “Planning for My Future” guides available. To request up to 50 copies for distribution at your event, please email rrss@grange.org with your name, Grange, mailing address, and event date to ensure timely delivery.

Granges that have presented or promoted the RRSS program must submit their final reports by the end of May. As a token of appreciation for your efforts, Junior, Community, and Pomona Granges can receive $100 for hosting a presentation, while State Granges can earn $500. Be sure to download the final report form and submit it on time to secure these funds.

Together, we can continue making a meaningful impact, ensuring individuals in rural communities have access to crucial surgical preparedness resources. Let's keep the momentum going!

Grange Month is more than celebration; it's a call to action. As we move through April, think of how your Grange can make a difference. Reach out to new potential members, connect with community organizations, collaborate with neighboring Granges on a regional project, or schedule a meeting with your local lawmakers to discuss issues important to your community. Every small action builds momentum and strengthens the Grange's voice at the local, state, and national levels.

Let's use this month not just to reflect on where we've been, but to boldly show where we're going. Let's fill our communities with the energy, kindness, and can-do spirit that defines the Grange. Let's rise to President Hamp's challenge and take Grange Month to new heights.

Together, we can ensure that the Grange continues to be seen as a vibrant, relevant, and impactful force for good in every corner of our country.

Happy Grange Month—now let's get out there and show what Grangers can do!

CALLING ALL BUSINESS OWNERS...

by Amanda Brozana

National Grange Membership

& Leadership Development Director

In the earliest days of Grange, members connected not just for fellowship but to improve each others' economies. From co-ops to word-of-mouth encouragement to shop from fellow members, this was a strong motivator for membership.

Today, the National Grange has exciting things on the horizon and we are seeking more information from our members who own direct-to-consumer businesses.

Do you have a hobby you have monetized through online or craft fair sales? Do you provide services such as graphic design or embroidery? Do you have a farm that sells half-hogs or baskets of produce? We'd love to hear more about your business and work with you as we develop a member-to-member marketing platform.

Please fill out this simple form and we will be in contact soon: <https://grange.biz/businessowner>

YOUTH & YOUNG ADULTS SOUGHT FOR LEADERSHIP ROLES

Grange Youth and Young Adult members are encouraged to apply for unique leadership opportunities through the National Grange Youth Department.

Each year, the National Grange selects a team of Youth & Young Adult Officers to participate in the National Grange Convention, and this year is no different - even on a cruise ship!

The Youth & Young Adult Officer Team will have the opportunity to take part in the National Grange Leadership Academy onboard the Carnival Horizon in this year's convention, as well as participate in official Grange functions that include opening the business session on one day of the cruise.

The Ambassador Program provides the opportunity for Youth and Young Adults to become representatives of their state Grange and mentors to their peers across the country.

Youth Ambassadors must be between the ages of 16 and 20, while Young Adult Ambassadors must be between 21 and 30.

State Ambassadors and contestants will receive leadership training during the annual convention. Individuals selected for the Ambassador Team will have the opportunity to be the voice and face of the National Grange Youth Department for a one-year term. The term includes travel, leading workshops and youth activities, attending Ag Day in DC, and helping plan programming for the year.

You can access information about both of these programs at <http://www.nationalgrangeyouth.org>. Don't delay - the application deadline is May 1st!

GET INVOLVED DURING GLOBAL VOLUNTEER MONTH THIS APRIL

Courtesy of StatePoint

Global Volunteer Month, celebrated in April, is a time to honor volunteers while encouraging volunteering in communities around the world.

This annual celebration is especially pertinent right now. According to a Pew Research report, only 54% of Americans feel a connection to others near them.

“Communities around the country are facing increased needs at a time when many people are feeling more isolated. Volunteering fills the gaps to strengthen community and the fabric of our society,” says Jennifer Sirangelo, president and CEO of Points of Light, the world’s largest organization dedicated to increasing volunteer service.

But as Sirangelo points out, volunteering doesn’t just build healthier and more equitable communities, it’s also good for the individuals who are lending their time and talents. “Engaging in volunteer activities has been identified as an effective way to build confidence, alleviate anxiety and depression, and provide a sense of purpose and connection,” she says.

Here are some ways you can take action this Global Volunteer Month and beyond:

- Take the Pledge: Let your community know you are committed to volunteering and service by taking the Points of Light’s Global Volunteer Month Pledge. With nearly 50% of volunteer postings going unfilled, your participation can help meet critical community needs and ensure essential services are delivered. Already committed to a cause you care about? Take this opportunity to deepen your engagement. Commit to one extra volunteer project a month, or consider taking on a leadership position with an organization you work with.
- Thank a Volunteer: Volunteers are the heartbeat of strengthening communities, and throughout the month, you can help recognize the vital role they play. Thank a volunteer or organization that is making an impact in your community starting on April 1 and throughout the month using the hashtag #ThankAVolunteer.

- Spread the Word: Use social media to spread the word about the importance of volunteering using hashtags like #GlobalVolunteerMonth. To inspire others to take action, share your own volunteer story using #WhyIVolunteer.
- Get Started: Not sure how to get started or where your efforts will make the biggest social impact? Visit Points of Light Engage, at engage.pointsoflight.org. This enormous database allows you to search for volunteer opportunities in your city or zip code based on your interests. Whether you’re volunteering on your own, with coworkers, or with family, you’ll be sure to find an opportunity that’s right for you.

“Volunteering is needed more than ever before. This April, we are urging everyone to join us in taking action. Lend your time, talent and passion to making a real difference in your own neighborhood and to creating a better world,” says Sirangelo.
