

Nicholas Kager

Coeur d'Alene Tribe

Nicholas Kager is schitsu'umsh (a member of the Coeur d'Alene Tribe) in the Idaho Panhandle. He returned to his homeland as a child and has dedicated his life to working in and for his community, while elevating Indigenous lives more broadly through advocacy, action and participation wherever he finds himself. Leading by doing, he strives to keep traditions alive and well for his children, their children, and the community.

Nick has worked with the Tribal Historic Preservation Office for 7 years, after a career in forestry and construction. Nick is also a master craftsman who shares his skills flintknapping, basketry, leatherwork freely.
