A growing trend that shows no sign of slowing down is the interest in the craft beer industry. We are pleased that the north metro is home to many breweries – each with their own unique identity, focus and flavors. For example, Bent Brewstillery in Roseville is actually Minnesota's first brewery and distillery under the same ownership and same location. The wildly popular Invictus in Blaine has an on-site, permanent restaurant with amazing food delivered right to your table. Alloy Brewing in Coon Rapids strives to 'make the unrefined, exceptional' with awards pouring in categories ranging from stouts, European lagers and even fruit beer. North Metro's newest addition, The Rusty Bumblebee in Blaine takes the fun approach of pour your own beer. These breweries and others in the north metro, are definitely worth checking out.

In fact, many offer unique events on a regular basis – so consider them for a fun afternoon or evening entertainment possibility. Many are family – and pet – friendly. And as these breweries grow and expand, you'll start to see their products on various tap handles around metro restaurants. It's fantastic to watch these small, independently owned businesses thrive in our communities!
