Each package includes a 30-minute strategy session to discuss desired outcomes; not included with a single session. Pre-paid sessions are 60-75 minutes in length. Each employee will receive an email to the email address provided by the employer with instructions and their coach's contact information. Flexible package sessions must be used within the designated contract period and cannot be transferred to another individual. Single sessions are available at $450/per session. *A study by the Corporate Leadership Council; Research published by International Journal of Evidence-Based Coaching and Mentoring; Survey conducted by Stanford University.
