WHY JOIN THE MWFA

Built on connections that hold the world together, the Mid-West Fastener Association is one of the oldest fastener associations in the United States. For over 80 years, MWFA has grown and evolved from a small local group into the largest regional fastener association in the industry, with members from coast to coast. The Midwest is home to the largest concentration of fastener-related firms in the country, and MWFA activities continue to attract members and industry professionals from across the nation and the world.
