EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP UPDATE

Welcome, 2026-2027 Executive Director, Tori Mignott

Hello NABPT Family,

I am absolutely ecstatic to join you as your acting Executive Director for 2026 – 2027! I bring over five years of combined experience in project management, operations, and event production to the team. More importantly, I'm here to channel our shared passion for community engagement into exciting new initiatives.

At the heart of my philosophy is the belief that we're stronger together. I'm dedicated to continuing to nurture an environment where collaboration thrives. As we embark on this journey, let's focus on developing and amplifying the pillars of NABPT: career development, community engagement, and advocacy & research. These foundations are not just buzzwords—they're our roadmap to making a real impact in our communities.

Now, let's talk about the thrilling initiatives on the horizon! Picture this: a community app that brings us all together in one vibrant space. Imagine more networking opportunities, invaluable career development tools, and resources that empower each of you to shine. Each initiative is designed with YOU in mind and to amplify our collective impact and embody the spirit of NABPT.

As we embrace these new projects and welcome the new year, your continued support is invaluable. Whether it's renewing your memberships, inviting new members, or actively participating in our programming, every action counts.

When we work together, we can create something truly transformative.

Warm regards,

Tori Mignott

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP UPDATE

A Message From Our President, Dr. Remi Onifade

I hope this message finds you in good spirits and grounded in purpose.

As many of you are aware, our organization is navigating an important transition following the resignations of our President, Dr. Monique Flemmings, and our Vice President, Dr. Imani Coles. We extend our deepest gratitude for their leadership, vision, and service to NABPT. Their impact will continue to shape our work. During this period of transition, I will serve as interim president as we thoughtfully and intentionally move forward.

As a co-founder, it has been one of the greatest honors of my professional life to witness NABPT grow from an idea into a living, breathing community — built on advocacy, excellence, and an unwavering commitment to equity in physical therapy and healthcare. What we have built together matters. And today, it matters more than ever.

We are practicing and leading in a time when healthcare systems are under strain, access is being challenged, and the voices of clinicians — particularly those committed to equity, inclusion, and community-centered care — must be strong, organized, and impossible to ignore. Physical therapy is not just a profession; it is a pillar of functional independence, quality of life, and preventive care. Our work directly impacts how communities heal, move, and thrive.

I urge each of you who believes in our mission to remain engaged and continue investing in NABPT — not just as an organization, but as a collective force shaping the future of healthcare.

We are actively seeking passionate, committed individuals to step into leadership roles as president, vice president, and treasurer. We are looking for leaders who understand the urgency of this moment, who have a vision for growth, and who are ready to empower others while advancing our mission with integrity and purpose. In addition, we encourage members to join our committees. Your lived experiences, professional expertise, and perspectives are critical to strengthening NABPT from the ground up. This is how sustainable change is built — through shared leadership and collective action.

Now is the time to invest in our community, protect our voice within the broader healthcare landscape, and build a powerful network rooted in collaboration, advocacy, and innovation. Together, we can ensure that physical therapy continues to be a force for healing, justice, and opportunity.

Empowered together,

Dr. Remi Onifade

Step Up. Lead. Make A Difference.
