Alternative:

1. Equivalent equipment, products and applications that have not met the standards as listed in this document shall be eligible as an accepted equivalent where acceptable equivalent testing from international standard bodies is provided and approved by the technical committee.

2. Application must be provided prior to labeling

With so many European and American products in demand in the Canadian market the NZE label must be flexible enough to allow products to be used that have not been tested to the over 50 CSA / CSGB standards listed in the Technical Requirements. Since Canada's market is limited it is not cost effective for many companies to test to every CSA/CSGB standard.
