Call for Proposals

The Association for Practical and Professional Ethics (APPE) invites individuals from every discipline and profession interested in advancing scholarship, teaching, and a general understanding of applied ethics to submit proposals based on their work to our 33rd Annual APPE International Conference on February 22-25, 2024 in Cincinnati, Ohio. There will be an online-only portion of the conference program on March 29, 2024 to accommodate our members, presenters, and guests who are located across the globe, or who are unable to attend the in-person conference in Cincinnati.

APPE is a multidisciplinary, international organization advancing scholarship, education, and practice in practical and professional ethics. We facilitate and support scholarly and professional collaborations among teachers, scientists, business practitioners, engineers, government officials, researchers, the media, and all professionals concerned with the practical application and communications of ethics and values.

In response to feedback from attendees, APPE especially welcomes submissions with a special focus on Exploring New Directions in Professional and Applied Ethics. We encourage proposals ranging from the more theoretical to case studies and narratives exploring new directions in application. Such proposals might include topics concerning new and emerging technologies, or new approaches and agendas in practical and professional ethics, among others.

Submissions in a variety of interest areas, in addition to the special focus, are welcome and include:

- Agricultural and/or Environmental Ethics
- Behavioral Ethics
- Bioethics, Health, and Medical Ethics
- Business Ethics
- Education Ethics
- Engineering Ethics
- Law and Government Ethics
- Military Ethics
- Media and Journalism Ethics
- Moral Theory
- Research Integrity
- Science, Technology, and/or Artificial Intelligence Ethics
- Social and Societal Ethics

APPE is especially interested in proposals associated with current events and emerging topics, such as, but not limited to:

- Cancel culture
- Climate change
- Dis- and misinformation
- Ethics in the economy
- Ethics of repair, reparations
- Free speech in the academy
- LGBTQI+/queer ethics
- Military human rights initiatives
- Monuments and public honorifics
- Obligations to future generations
- Parental rights (e.g., in education, medicine)
- Political and election ethics
- Privacy and social media
- Public health and competing economic interests
- Systemic bias and social justice
- Unhoused/housing insecurity

Please keep in mind that our attendees come from a range of backgrounds and perspectives, so presentations should be designed to engage our diverse community.
