Meet Your Keynote Speaker Todd Romberger

Todd Romberger is Senior Vice President of the Spaceports Business Unit at Space Florida, where he is responsible for the implementation of strategic objectives across all spaceport-related functions of the organization including sales and client fulfillment, spaceport operations, infrastructure planning and development, and facilities management. Prior to his current role, Todd served as Vice President of Commercial Space for Space Florida, where he was responsible for Space Florida's business development activities in the emerging space tech market, leading capture and execution of several marquee Space Florida projects including Airbus OneWeb Satellites' high volume satellite production facility, financing of in-space manufacturing equipment for Made In Space, Firefly Aerospace's east coast launch and manufacturing site development, and the transition of the former Orbiter Processing Facility 3 into commercial operations. Todd joined Space Florida in 2011, working closely with Masten Space Systems to pave the way for vertical landing at the Cape Canaveral Spaceport.
