CELEBRATING 100 YEARS OF BUILDING THE INLAND NORTHWEST

SPOKANE, Wash. — The Inland Northwest’s leading construction association, The Inland Northwest AGC, is proud to celebrate its 100th year of operation. To commemorate this milestone, the organization held its annual Convention and Gala at the Davenport Grand Hotel on February 4, 2022. Please see the attached article for additional information and for reproduction in whole or in part as desired.

The Inland Northwest AGC commemorated the chapter’s centennial with the BUILD Northwest Awards, recognizing exceptional individuals and companies who have put their stamp on the region, its communities, and the construction industry as a whole.

Executive Director Cheryl Stewart said, “In the past 100 years, Inland Northwest AGC members have made their mark in all areas of commercial construction, impacting how thousands of people in our communities go about their daily lives. It’s extremely gratifying to be surrounded by so many who have played such a significant role in the success and continuation of our chapter.”

“The Inland Northwest AGC is an important partner in the greater Spokane community, and we have endured for a century because of the dedication and support of our members,” said Chapter President Chris Myers.

Among the many events taking place at the Centennial Convention, members and guests were invited to view displays showcasing the chapter’s history, hear from industry thought leaders speaking on the future of the construction industry, and attend a 1920s-themed reception complete with swing band.
